Police Battle Gangs of Youths on South Side

Tear Gas Hangs Heavily over Milwaukee's S. 16th Street Wednesday night after police broke up a crowd of whites who had been pelting patrol cars and cars loaded with Negroes with rocks and bottles. The whites had gathered and waited vainly for Negro open housing marchers to come south across the 16th Street viaduct on their nightly demonstration. (AP Wirephoto)

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gangs of white youths pelted Negro motorists and police cars with rocks, bottles and bricks Wednesday night in a fourth straight night of violence on the virtually all-white South Side.

The crowds had gathered for a second successive night in anticipation of an open housing march by Negroes who stopped short of the South Side neighborhood

Police finally broke up the crowds of white youths with repeated barrages of tear gas and smoke bombs and with the intimidating blasts of riot guns and revolvers, but not before several police cars and vans were showered with flying debris. Three persons were injured. At least 20 were arrested

Groppi Stays Out

The violence came despite a decision by the Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest, and the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to steer clear of the South Side— where their open housing march was greeted with bottles and bricks Monday night.

"We don't have to prove how brave we are" the priest said Wednesday before leading Negro marchers in a demonstration in the virtually all-Negro Inner Core.

It was the 17th straight night of demonstrations by the priest and the council which he advises

Wednesday's violence was at first directed toward Negro motorists, many of them on their way to or from work in South Side industries. "Nigger, Nigger," whites would shout at the approach of a car containing Negroes

The words would trigger a barage of debris at the car. "Tip him over. Tip him over," the whites shouted as the car under fire swerved down 16th Street—the heart of the troubled area.

Police fired tear gas earlier to disperse the crowd after about 300 white youths had marched on the residence of William E. Cousins, the Roman Catholic archbishop of Milwaukee.

The youths were demanding for a second night in a row, that the church censure Father Groppi.

The archbishop came to the front lawn of his residence and spoke briefly to the group, many of whom seemed under 16. "A bunch of babies with peach fuzz and pimples on their faces," was a description given by one policeman of the white assemblage.

After the archbishop referred the group to an editorial he wrote on the question in the archdiocesan newspaper Wednesday, the group marched back to the South Side where it was greeted with cheers.

The archbishop's editorial neither censured nor supported the controversial priest but warned against confusing Father Groppi with the city's racial problems

"We are being diverted by emotion and mob psychology into fighting a straw figure while the real enemy goes unscathed," the archbishop said in the editorial.

The South Side, a neighborhood of largely lower middle income homes, small businesses and large industrial complexes, was the scene of violence between whites and police Sunday night after Father Groppi and 2,500 demonstrators marched through the area virtually unmolested

The violence, with most of it directed at police, has been on a nightly basis ever since

Police have been abused for the protection they extended to Negro marchers, and for their opposition to plans for white marches into the Negro Inner Core

Shops on 16th Street began to take on the aspect of shops of Third Street in the Negro area —the scene of rioting July 30. Display windows were boarded up and the words, "Open for Business" were painted crudely on the wood

After their initial tear gas attack Wednesday night, police pulled back from the area.

They made no apparent effort to warn Negro motorists away.

Asked why, one officer replied: "They have as much right to travel down there as anyone else"

When the stones and rocks continued to fly at the police vehicles, police moved back into the area in force.

Whites 'Can't Believe' Rioting

MILWAUKEE (AP)—"If they break the window of my store I'm going to shoot them, I don't care if they're white or not," a middle-aged man said as he cleaned up the broken bottles in front of his store.

Three youths with brooms were sweeping the glass out of the street People were very careful where they walked, because it was nearly impossible to put a foot down without stepping on the shattered fragments.

The glass lay in testimony to the violent reaction of whites on Milwaukee's South Side to having Negroes among them Bottles and rocks shattered on cars of Negroes that happened to drive past the hundreds of whites that gathered for the second straight night on the south side of the 16th Street bridge.

When the police moved in, the bottles and rocks rained down on them

The glass crunched under feet of fleeing whites and following police.

"Get one of our photographers out here," the sergeant in charge of the riot squad snapped into a radio "I want documentation for what we're doing out here tonight Have him get the glass in the street, and those broken windows"

"Break up that group down there," he yelled at some of his men He pointed at several dozen youths standing about 50 yards down a side street

"One unit wait here and another one get around behind them, when they give you the word, move. I want some of those guys arrested," he snapped.

The word came and the officers jumped into action

"Get them, get all of them," a housewife standing behind her screen door yelled at the police as they scrambled over hedges after the fleeing youths.

"I can't believe these people," said one officer as they walked back. "I was raised in the house back there, my dad owned a store just around the corner I just can't believe it"

The window of a jewelry store was broken, but the owner said nothing was taken. He had all his display merchandise stored inside.

"When you have a couple of thousand people standing around with nothing to do, you don't take chances," he said. Other store owners had their windows boarded up Some got the plywood up before any glass was broken Others hadn't been so lucky.

Sixteenth Street looked much like Third Street after a Negro riot, except there was no burning

U.S., Soviets Warned

U Thant Reportedly Threatened to Quit

CAIRO (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General U Thant has threatened to resign unless the United States and the Soviet Union make more serious efforts to solve the problems and difficulties confronting the United Nations and the world, the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram reported today.

In a dispatch from its New York correspondent, Al Ahram said Thant made the threat to the U S and Soviet governments recently

Didn't 'Heed Advice'

Thant was especially bitter, the report said, because of the failure of the United States to "heed his advice on Vietnam" His chief recommendation has been for a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam

Al Ahram said Thant in his recent communications to Moscow and Washington pointed out that when he reluctantly accepted another five-year term last December, he had three major international problems on his hands.

The report did not say what these problems were. But Thant reportedly told the U S and Soviet governments none of them had been solved and a fourth problem, that of the Middle East, has been added. Thant also reportedly emphasized he had received no help from either government in easing the financial difficulties of the world organization

Thant arrived in Kinshasa, the Congolese capital, Wednesday night to attend the closing session of the African summit meeting Al Ahram said he intends to express these views in a private meeting with African leaders.

B52s Drop Bombs Inside N. Vietnam

242 Americans Killed in Week; Communist Losses Hit 2,103

SAIGON (AP) — High-altitude B52 bombers struck inside North Vietnam today at hidden sites where the Communists were preparing to put up missile stations in an effort to halt the damaging blows from the Stratofortresses along the demilitarized zone.

The B52 raid three miles inside North Vietnamese territory was one of three heavy strikes during which the big bombers unloaded some 450,000 pounds of bombs from the demilitarized zone north

The heavy pressure in South Vietnam's northern provinces was reflected in last week's casualty figures announced today by the U.S. Command. The number of American and Communist combat dead were the highest in two months, and at least two thirds of the Americans were around the coastal town of Tam Ky and 150 miles to the north on the fringes of the DMZ.

The U S Command said 242 Americans were killed last week, 1,490 were wounded and seven were missing South Vietnamese forces reported 250 killed, while Communist dead totaled 2,103 killed.

Since the South Vietnamese presidential election Sept. 3 brought an end to a two-month lull in ground fighting, the Communists have repeatedly committed big units to battle in the north and hurled continual mortar and artillery barrages at the Marines holding the line south of the DMZ The sandbagged, underground fortress at Con Thien has been a repeated target

Today's B52 raids smothered the jungle routes leading down to Con Thien and blasted suspected artillery gun posts as well as the area north of the zone where preparations were spotted to install the big SAM missiles which can reach an altitude of 70,000 feet. Earlier this year the Communists succeeded in bringing down the big missiles, forcing the Air Force to pull back its high-altitude bombers to targets below the zone. The Air Force is determined that won't happen again, and is making heavy raids on all suspected missile activity in the southern part of North Vietnam.

American authorities reported scattered fights up and down South Vietnam Wednesday with at least 257 Communists killed.

The fighting in the north was mainly a series of smaller skirmishes, but in the southern Mekong Delta American infantrymen, artillery and air power killed 123 guerrillas in a running fight through muddy rice paddies

Although the weather over North Vietnam was spotty, American pilots managed an almost average number of 137 missions Wednesday Some were night radar strikes and others sudden raids through chance openings in the clouds.

There was no report of any lost planes, but returning pilots reported meeting swarms of SAM missiles and flights of swept-wing MIG17s in the Hanoi-Haiphong area The MIGs skirted the bombing formations in efforts to draw them from targets but stayed far enough away to avoid aerial combat.

$100 Million Cut Ordered in AT&T 'Distance' Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission ordered today American Telephone and Telegraph Co to cut its long distance telephone rates by $100 million by Nov 1

The FCC originally had ordered a $120 million cut. But in a 7-0 decision it said today $20 million of the reduction could be deferred until next May 1.

The FCC also reversed part of its July 5 order to allow the giant communications combine to include an additional $544 million in its so-called rate base—the basis on which AT&T figures its profits

Blames Reds for Attacks

Korea Threatens Reprisals

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government declared today the Korean armistice agreement has become "a mere scrap of paper" because of mounting attacks from the Communist North. It said it would "take certain very serious actions" against any further Red attacks

Information Minister Hong Jong-chul said after an emergency session of the National Security Council called by President Chung Hee Park that North Korea must bear the responsibility for the situation

Hong said Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah and Defense Minister Kim Sung-eun would confer with U N officials and leaders of the U.N Command

The council also discussed proposals for reviving the South Korean militia and deploying national police and troops to crush infiltrators from the North, a ranking government official said.

Million in North

South Korea had a militia system until 1951. North Korea is reported to have more than one million militia members ready to bolster its regular armed force.

A ranking government official reported after the Security Council meeting that the government plans to ask the U.N. General Assembly to send a new U.N group to supervise the armistice.

"Full and effective supervision of the armed peace in Korea is imperative because of ever increasing North Korean acts of violence," the official told newsmen after the emergency session of the council.

Wednesday saboteurs believed from the North mined a South Korean freight train hauling U.S. military supplies 10 miles north of Seoul The explosion wrecked two cars and damaged four. Eight days previously a passenger train 25 miles northeast of Seoul was derailed by an explosion.

U.S and South Korean officials have accused North Korea of launching an intensified campaign of border attacks and guerrilla sabotage deep in the south since last October when Premier Kim Il-Sung ordered his Communist forces to increase espionage and guerrilla actions.

The U N command has reported 245 North Korean soldiers killed or captured in nearly 200 incidents in the past 11 months, while nearly 85 South Korean troops and 20 Americans have been killed

The U N command says there were only eight such actions in 1964 and 27 in 1965

Police Identify Battered Body

Fingerprints Reveal Slaying Victim Was Chicago Man, 27

FOND DU LAC (AP)—Fond du Lac County Sheriff Harry E. Rozek said today that a man whose battered and bullet-marked body was found in a dump near Kewaskum has been identified as Herbert L. McKinney, 27, of Chicago

Identification was made by fingerprint classifications with Chicago authorities, Rozek said, and two sisters with whom McKinney lived are coming to Fond du Lac to make a visual identification

Rozek said Chicago authorities reported that the McKinney sisters, Shirley and Tina, had said that they took Herbert and a girl friend to a Chicago tavern about 8 a.m. Saturday, and that the three women left him there.

Rozek said the Washington County sheriff's office called his office Tuesday, saying it had received a citizen's tip that a body could be found on an abandoned dump on a farm in southeastern Fond du Lac County.

Rozek said his men went out to the farm, owned by a Chicago policeman, and discovered the body abolut four feet down a 40-foot gully at the dump

Rozek said bruises on the forehead indicated the man had been beaten, perhaps with a wooden club but tests indicated he had died from a bullet wound in the left temple by a gun "closer to a .38 than anything."

Heading for Yucatan

Once Again, Beulah Becomes a Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Beulah exploded in size and fury today and became once again a dangerous storm, lashing a huge area of the western Caribbean.

"This is going to become a massive storm before we are through with it," said Dr. Robert Simpson, co-director of the National Hurricane Center. "Beulah has become once again a very dangerous storm."

Beulah was a small, tightly-wound hurricane when she roared through the eastern Caribbean, killing at least 18 persons and taking a big toll of crop and property damage.

Knocked down to a tropical storm by her collision with the mountains of Haiti, she built back up to hurricane force today and Simpson said she was expected to continue to grow in both size and intensity.

She switched from a due west course toward Honduras and began angling toward the west-northwest to the general direction of the Yucatan Peninsula leading into the giant Gulf of Mexico. A morning satellite picture revealed that Beulah again was fully organized and had spread out over a major portion of the western Caribbean. She was thrashing along slowly, sucking up energy from the warm sea waters.

Beulah was 250 miles from the coast of Central America and 680 miles due south of Miami.

Others Flounder

Two more powerful storms, Chloe and Doria, floundered almost aimlessly in the Atlantic

Hurricane Chloe churned the waters with 110 m p h. winds 725 miles east-southeast of Bermuda and pounded a 400-mile wide area with gales She was moving toward the north-northwest at about five m.p h.

Hurricane Doria lay nearly stationary 400 miles southeast of Cape Cod, Mass., and 525 miles due east of Cape Hatteras, but was forecast to drift slowly west-northwest toward the Atlantic coast during the day.

No Announcement Soon

Many Urging Romney To Declare Candidacy

ROCHESTER, N Y (AP) — Michigan Gov George Romney has been urged to hurry an announcement of candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination but is holding back, a Romney source acknowledged today.

The source added that, "veen back in June, people were advising the governor to declare the next day"

Romney has taken the advice under consideration, but no decision is expected soon, the source indicated

Urged by Rockefeller

One of those reported to have urged Romney to make his intention known is Gov Nelson A Rockefeller of New York an early supporter of Romney for the nomination Romney is expected to see Rockefeller tonight in New York City— another stop in a study of urban problems and a sampling of political winds

Wednesday, Romney flew into Rochester in his undeclared quest and sought answers in a Negro neighborhood to urban uprisings. He got some hard questions

Among other things, the Michigan governor was asked why he believed he could handle the nation when the major city of his home state had been torn by rioting this summer, rioting described as the worst in this nation's history

Romney, who says he is making a 19-day sweep across the nation to learn more about the problems of Negroes and the cities, sat down in a storefront headquarters of a Negro organization named FIGHT On one wall was a photograph of Stokely Carmichael emblazoned with his views on Negroes fighting in Vietnam: "Hell no, we won't go."

And on a wall behind the governor was a poster with the photograph of Che Guevera, Fidel Castro's expert on guerrilla warfare.

Romney, intense and serious, faced a crowd of about 100 Negroes jammed into the hot room, and said "I am sure in my own mind people in this country don't realize how close we are to civil guerrilla warfare in America"

From the crowd came the chant: "Right! Right!"

A middle-aged Negro woman asked the governor: "Do you feel these riots are the result of white America?"

"Liberation, not riots," interrupted a man

Romney said he didn't think "the responsibility belonged ex-

$1 Billion Pledged for Slums

Insurance Companies Plan To Assist Rent Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1 billion slum investment promise by the life insurance industry has boosted President Johnson's battered rent supplement program.

Life insurance leaders announced at the White House Wednesday they will make $1 billion of their $16 billion in annual investment money available for use in the city slums.

And Gilbert W. Fitzhugh, board chairman of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., said "the rent supplement program is probably the area into which we will move most rapidly."

Supplement Program

Immediately, the move will provide the rent supplements program with private long-term mortgage money which has been lacking. This will counter critics of the rent supplements program who have argued supplements were not feasible because private firms wouldn't invest in the buildings.

The move also could give rent supplements a lift in Congress, where the program is fighting for its life. A House-passed bill would kill it by denying expansion funds. The Senate Appropriations Committee gave new hope to supporters of the program by voting it the full $40 million the administration asked.

Rent supplements are the difference between a determined reasonable rental and the 25 per cent of their income which qualifying families pay.

New Threat

Wednesday's announcement also gave the President his second announced new thrust into the low-income housing field in as many days. Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development, said Tuesday it would be possible to double last fiscal year's output of public housing units to about 70,000 this year.

And less than a month ago Weaver announced a new plan to bring private enterprise into construction and management to speed production of low-income public housing.

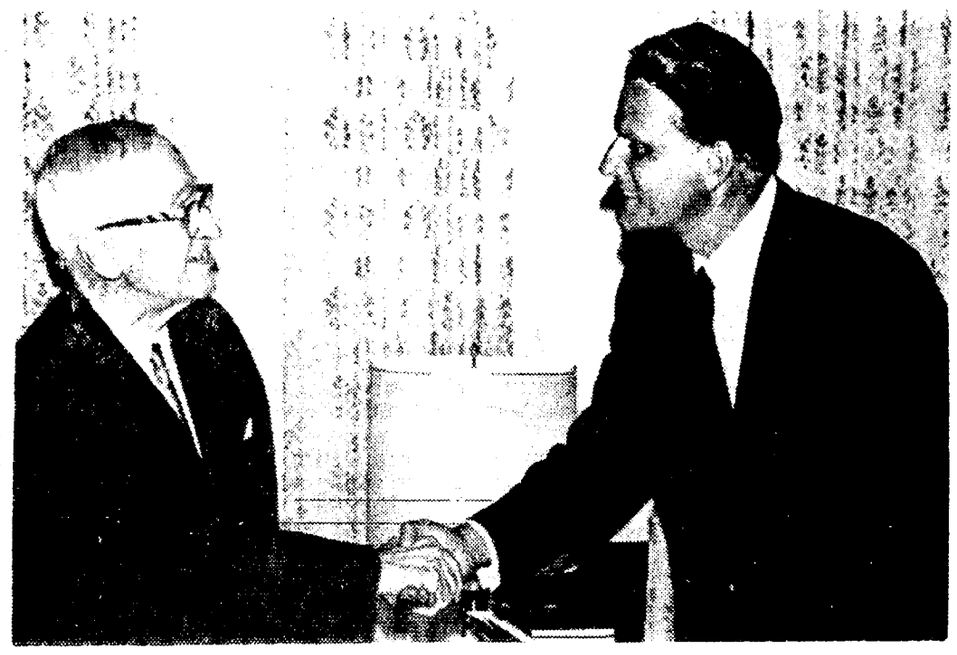
In addition to providing mortgage money for the rent supplement program, the life insurance companies will make such money available for residents of blighted areas to buy or improve their homes.

Finance Development

Fitzhugh, chairman of the Urban Problems Committee of the American Life Convention and Life Insurance Association of America, also indicated the industry will finance some commercial developments in the slums.

Money for these purposes now is extremely scarce—and what is available draws burdensome interest rates, federal housing officials said in a series of interviews, explaining that private lenders consider blighted areas bad risks.

The Federal Housing Administration will insure mortgages provided under the new effort. FHA Administrator Phillip N. Brownstein said the commitment "might trigger similar actions by some of the other investors."



Evangelist Billy Graham pays a 20-minute social call on former President Harry S Truman at his Independence, Mo. home Wednesday. Ultimatum to India

Peking Uses Air Force Threat

NEW DELHI (AP) — New Chinese shooting was reported on the Himalayan border between Tibet and Sikkim today in the wake of a Chinese threat to bring Peking's air force if Indian troops continue to fire across the Nathu pass.

After three days of patrol clashes and artillery duels in the 14,000- foot pass, the Chinese stopped shooting Wednesday night and the front remained quiet "except for a stray shot here and there" for 13 hours, an Indian Defense Ministry spokesman said.

But later news reports from Gangtok, the capital of Sikkim, said there was more Chinese firing through the frontier corridor this morning.

Cite Deadline

The United News of India said the Chinese, broadcasting from loudspeakers on the Tibetan side of the frontier, warned that today was the deadline for Indian troops to cease firing or face retaliation from their warplanes.

The Chinese have used the loudspeakers before for propaganda broadcasts to Indian patrols.

The Indian spokesman said the Defense Ministry attached no importance to the threat of Chinese air raids.

"This is Peking's way of responding to our cease-fire call," she said.

Gangtok, 12 air miles from Nathu, took civil defense action including a blackout Wednesday night for the first time since the Red Chinese invaded India in 1962 in a border dispute, reports from Calcutta said.

They added that civil defense action intensified in Calcutta and other parts of eastern India's West Bengal State.

Indian government sources indicated the Indian death toll since fighting broke out Monday rose to 20 in Wednesday's clashes, which followed a 12-hour lull. The Chinese said 36 of their border guards were killed or wounded in the first two days of fighting.

India proposed a cease-fire Tuesday and suggested a meeting of sector commanders. Peking Radio called India's proposal "a gross deception."

When the fighting began, it was believed the Chinese were angered because Indian border guards had erected a barbed wire barrier at the pass.

Violence Erupts In Steel Strike

Wildcatters Halt Private Haulers In Three States

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A wildcat strike by private truckers has interrupted steel shipments in three states and touched off some gunfire, tire slashing and windshield smashing. One man was seriously hurt, another shot.

Most of the violence that erupted Wednesday was against nonstriking truckers hauling steel in Ohio and western Pennsylvania. Shipments were disrupted in those two states. Indiana and into the Midwest.

The driver of one steel-hawling truck was wounded in the arm early today by a shot fired from a passing car on U.S. 224 near Medina, south of Cleveland, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported. The patrol said the driver told officers the car, with Pennsylvania license plates, had followed him from Canton, Ohio.

The wounded driver was not identified immediately. He was hospitalized in Medina.

Other truckers reported tires shot out of their rigs, shots fird over their cabs and vehicles pelted with bricks thrown by gangs of men riding in cars. Police escorted five rigs from East Liverpool, Ohio, to Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland, Pa., works.

Ohio state police said a truck plunged over a 30-foot embankment on Ohio Route 7, seriously injuring Charles E. Matheney, 26, of New Matamore, Ohio, the driver. Troops said Matheney was unconscious and that the incident was connected with the strike. They would not elaborate.

Teachers Union Will Defy Court's Order

Officials Choose to Ignore New York Law on Walkouts

NEW YORK (AP) — Union leaders say they'll defy a State Supreme Court order demanding the end to the strike by city teachers, now in its fourth day. The walkout has provided at least 60 per cent of the city's 1.1 million public school children with extra summer vacation.

The absentee rate among both pupils and volunteer teachers has risen on each successive day of the strike, Board of Education figures show.

Albert Shanker, president of the 49,000-member AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers said Wednesday its picket lines "will stay until the teachers have ratified a contract." The temporary injunction prohibiting a continuation of the strike was ordered by Justice Emilio Nunez. The union ignored a prior restraining order when it began the walkout Monday.

Show Cause

Shanker and two other union officials were to appear in court today before Nunez to show cause why they and the union should not be cited for contempt. If found guilty they would face a maximum penalty of $250 and 30 days in jail.

While legal maneuvers continued there were growing signs of student concern. "Teach now, talk later," read signs carried Wednesday by some student counterpickets outside Central Commercial High School.

Brief Flair

Attendance at the city's 900 schools fell to only 412,279 students and volunteer help also decreased according to board of education figures. Officials said no plans had yet been made for making up lost instruction time.

Hope of a settlement in the dispute over wages, policy matters and working conditions flared briefly when Justice Nunez proposed that the board and the union submit their dispute to binding arbitration. Both sides refused.

Then, declaring "the teachers executed resignations to engage in a concerted work stoppage —in an attempt to evade the law," Nunez ordered the injunction.

Both parties met for negotiations Wednesday night but differed sharply after the two-hour session on what had been accomplished.

"We have lessened the gap on the issues of disruptive children and class size but there are a dozen other items still outstanding," said Shanker. But board president Alfred A. Giardino reported "abolutely no progress."

Scale Sought

At the outset the UFT asked a wage scale for teachers of $7,500 to $18,000 a year as opposed to the present scale of $5,400 to $11,950. A special three-man mediation panel recommended a scale of $6,600 to $13,600 a year which the board endorsed.

The UFT voted down the proposal 12,333 to 2,523 at a Sunday mass meeting. Although only a third of the teachers voted the union said the vote was binding on the entire membership.

Shanker maintains the teachers have resigned en masse and are not on strike. He said he has held up submission of 42,000 signed resignations until the city gives assurance it will not reveal the names to draft boards.

Legality Challenged

Rap Brown in Jail as Attorney Fights

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Black Power advocate H. Rap Brown was behind the bars of Richmond's city jail today, while his lawyers challenged the legality of his speedy transfer here Wednesday from Alexandria.

The denim-clad leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee was brought here by state troopers after a hearing in Alexandria Corporation Court on a motion to delay his extradition to Maryland.

Judge Franklin P. Backus denied a motion for bail, and ordered Brown confined to the Alexandria jail.

Hearing Set

Just where Brown is supposed to be remained uncertain. Backus scheduled a hearing for 2 p.m. today at the request of Brown's attorney, Philip J. Hirschkop, who asked for a determination of why Brown had been taken to Richmond.

Hirschkop called the transfer a "legal lynching," and said he was told of the transfer after it was under way. Alexandria officials, he said told him they felt their facilities and personnel were inadequate to cope with the task.

Hirschkop also said he planned to renew his motion at the hearing that Brown be released on bail.

If this fails, he said, he will file a habeas corpus petition in U.S. District Court in Alexandria.

Backus, reached by telephone at his home Wednesday night, said he had no knowledge beforehand that Brown was being moved to Richmond.

Asked who ordered the transfer, he replied: "I don't know."

City Sgt. Raymond E. Fogel, who had legal custody of the prisoner on leaving the court, could not be reached immediately for comment.

Alexandria Commonwealth's Atty. Earl F. Wagner said he was surprised to learn Brown had been taken to Richmond.

Somebody Fueled

"I think somebody got fouled up," he said.

Brown, 23, is charged in Cambridge, Md., with inciting to riot and inciting to arson. Each carries a maximum penalty of five years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Hirschkop and Brown's other attorney, William M. Kunstler of New York, will seek at the Oct. 3 hearing to permanently block Brown's extradition to Maryland. They charge he could not receive a fair trial in the state where several buildings were burned after his July 24 speech.

Black Power Leader H. Rap Brown is interviewed by newsmen in Richmond's city jail after his transfer to the state capital from Alexandria Wednesday. His habeas corpus hearing is scheduled for Oct. 3, although Brown says he may break out before then. (AP Wirephoto)

High Crop Yield Disguises True Farm Condition

Prices Depressed; Income Lower Than Previous Year

NEW YORK AP — The lush record crops of corn, wheat and soybeans expected from the nation's farms this year disguise what many farmers and others consider are some unwholesome and worrisome conditions.

Not everyone shares this view, of course, for many feel that despite economic and political considerations, such enormous crops as a 1967 estimate of 4.7 billion bushels of corn are needed in a world fighting starvation.

American farmers now know, even that some farm prices are depressed this year and that incomes are lower than a year ago. And speakers at family farm rallies decry the future as corporations gobble up farm acreage.

Prospect or Danger

The possibility that much of the nation's farm production during the next few decades will be by large corporations, whose stock might be traded on the big exchanges, is a prospect or a danger, depending on the view.

Already some crops are the product of factory farms, and some economists feel that the tendency will accelerate that farming is a science or business more than an art or skill, and that it is as suited to the production line as cars or soft drinks or household appliances.

Visible evidence of this tendency is produced every day, especially in the automated chicken factories, where thousands of squawking birds enter the plant on hooks and leave packed in ice.

The more automation and mechanization, the greater the capital outlay needed. Already some family farms represent an investment of more than $100,000 and some authorities say this industrialization of the farm has just begun.

Machinery Devised

Not only is new machinery being devised regularly to pick crops, such as tomatoes, that once were considered too tender for handling by mechanical arms and conveyors, but new crops are being designed to suit the machines.

These include tomatoes with tough skins, and new varieties of peaches, strawberries, lettuce and other fruits and vegetables that either won't bruise or will grow in shapes and sizes suited to machine picking.

In the United States today there are no more farms than there were in 1876. And the total of less than 3.2 million steadily diminishes as production soars, proof that broadly speaking, farms are both larger and more productive.

This fact plays some tricks with other farm statistics. It creates the impression that every farmer is becoming wealthier although an operator of a family farm can quickly discover he is only another victim of this process.

Income Rises

Farm income per worker has risen sharply in this decade, although not this year, and now totals more than $4,500 a year, but fewer workers enjoy this rise each year.

In 1900, for example, there were 5,458,000 farm workers in the United States and now there are 3,848,000. These figures emphasize not only the productivity of machines but also of the inroads mechanization has made into farms and rural life. Many of these workers abandoned farming for the city.

The production of those who remained rose sharply and now some of this productivity has depressed prices. Income to operators is down to an annual rate of $14.7 billion from $16.2 billion last year.

A result, understood by the farm is far more prevalent than it was a year ago and some family farmers are directing their anger not only at the government but at corporate farms as well.

This, the evolution of the farm from small to large, from hand labor to machine labor, and now perhaps from family to corporate operation is producing immediate economic and political repercussions.

Greater productivity does not mean that everything is wonderful down on the farm. All that corn is not necessarily gold.

Folksy Era Gone

Norman Rockwell Turns Talent Toward Controversial Issues

By WILMA JACK

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Norman Rockwell, the folksy artist whose conception of the four freedoms inspired Americans in World War II, is pointing his talented brush toward things more controversial.

"Things have changed, and so have I," says the lanky patriarch remembered by most for his more than 360 Saturday Evening Post covers.

After 47 years of recording the foibles of the American public with painstaking accuracy and gentle humor, Rockwell has switched to more topical themes.

"The kind of thing I did for years is through," the 73-year-old artist said softly as he folded his Twiggy frame into an antique chair.

Rockwell is feverishly behind schedule, has committed his talents for months ahead and is generally happy about the whole thing.

The shock of hair is silver, but his cavernous eyes are alive with enthusiasm.

"The public doesn't want my type of gentle humor anymore and the magazines don't want it; they're now full of articles on race problems, drug addiction, sex in the suburbs, mass murders and the like. I still get letters from people every day who say, 'Why don't you do those sweet old pictures like you used to do,' but that's just from older people, like myself," he chuckled.

Fed Up

"To be honest, I was getting fed up with the cute situations," he explained. "Since the Post, I've been getting some very exciting things to do." Among them he mentioned covers and special inside illustrations for Look and McCall's, such as astronauts and the Peace Corps, even a tongue-in-cheek pictorial comment on women's hair rollers and current hair styles.

He remains as American as red, white and blue, as traditional as Old World courtesy and as aware as New World current events.

Recently Rockwell was in the Soviet Union for two weeks on a painting assignment of Russian schools. "The topic was more or less that in school, children were being taught to revere—I could almost say, worship—Lenin." The execution of the painting was one of the most difficult of his career, he said. The illustration will appear on a double-page spread in an October issue of Look's look into the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Unfinished Picture

In his studio, a huge, elongated canvas sat on the easel waiting to be finished. It shows a portion of today's Main Street in quaint, picturesque Stockbridge, Mass., where the artist lives, and will be featured in a three-page fold-out section in McCall's Christmas issue.

For the most part, Rockwell retains a photographically realistic style despite detractors who have sniffed that he is old-fashioned.

"Paintings are never any good when they're easy. The ones I have trouble with always come out best," he said. He feels his most significant or "most recurring work" is the four freedoms series created in 1943 during World War II.

Rockwell emphasizes the need for regular work hours. He naps after lunch, ceases work after dinner and tries to get at least eight hours of sleep.

Since he has made more than enough money, he says his compulsion to work is just "bad habit." Though he is selective with art job offers, he adds, "I have a lot more orders than I can do. I take on too many things—one job is only for some little drawings. I don't know why the hell I do it."

As if answering his own thoughts, he concluded, "Art is my life. I've never done anything else."

Harrison May Purchase Road Oiling Equipment

Officials Feel Buying Machines for Town Roads Preferable to Rentals

SHERWOOD — Faced with the possibility of having to apply oil to the almost 70 miles of roads for dust control in the Town of Harrison next year when roadbinder is no longer available, town officials are studying types of oiling equipment available before seeking purchase approval of electors at the annual meeting next spring.

Prices on used machinery were quoted by Robert Paustian, Clintonville, a representative of Miller, Bradford and Risberg, Inc., Milwaukee, at Monday's meeting. Paustian said he could supply a 1,000 gallon distributor for $1,300 and five to eight-ton rollers from $3,000. He also explained his firm's rental program.

Purchase Preferable

Town officials said enough roadbinder was available to complete the work this year and agreed to seek information on equipment and oiling programs being carried out in neighboring towns. It was felt that in view of extent of roads in the town, it was preferable to buy equipment, rather than contract with another municipality to do the work. The machinery would be available when it was needed.

It was also reported that reconstruction of firelane 9, which is being widened, and will eventually be blacktopped, is underway. Some trees will be removed and utility poles moved. Improvements are from State 114 — U.S. 10 to the railroad tracks.

Sealcoating of the North Shore Golf Club Road, the Slant Road and Sherwood roads have been completed and work is progressing on the Harrison-Stockbridge townline Road.

Aid Petition

A petition for county bridge aid for two bridges, one on firelane 12 and the other on the road joining firelanes 12 and 13, will be presented to the county board of supervisors Tuesday by town chairman George Schwalbach.

No parking signs will be placed on firelane 1, at the Waverly Beach intersection from the highway south to the lake. Some signs had been placed there previously. The order is necessary to allow the movement of emergency vehicles on the road. Signs will be placed on one side by the Town of Menasha and on the other by Harrison.

State highway aid for $8,520 and liquor tax apportionment for $2,816 were received recently by the town treasurer.

Bartenders licenses for Helen Babbitz, James Karisny, Joseph King, Carl Vanden Heuvel, Robert Heiderman, Marion Westenberger and Artys Ecker were approved.

A dog damage claim for $16 for 16 rabbits belonging to Joseph Brantmeier, Sherwood, was approved and turned over to the county.

New Regulations

In other action the board:

— Heard letters from the attorney general's office regarding a new ruling necessitating the reporting circumstances under which liquor or beer licenses are revoked, and from the Fox Valley Council of Governments on the Urban Reporting Service available to member units.

— Received notice of school tax apportionments of $2,966 for Stockbridge School district and $44,350 for Hilbert.

— Decided to contact Wisconsin Gas Co., Kaukauna, the firm which will supply natural gas to Sherwood, for written assurance that the company will be responsible for any changes in pipelines due to the installation of water and sewage ilnes in the village. The board will also request that no natural gas installations be made along town roads without its consent because of possible road improvements.

— Ordered two trees reported to have Dutch Elm disease removed from the ditch along State 55.

— Decided to seek quotations on gas heating equipment for the town hall and scheduled a special meeting for Sept. 25.

Judge Excuses Jurist With Claustrophobia

CINCINNATI (AP) — The jury room in Municipal Court is rather small and so Leboria Donahue was excused from jury duty recently.

Mrs. Donahue gave Judge Robert S. Kraft a note from her physician saying she has been under treatment for claustrophobia for six years. Claustrophobia is defined as a morbid dread of closed or narrow places.

The judge assigned an alternate juror to the panel hearing an assault and battery case.

Are Money and Guns the Answer?

Young King Constantine of Greece is not paying a mere formal call on President Johnson or taking advantage of the increased promotion of tourism in the United States. He is over here primarily to try to get Greece back on the roster of nations which receive large amounts of American aid, particularly military aid.

When the military junta overthrew the democratically elected but floundering government in Greece last winter, the United States cut off shipments of arms and ammunition. While the military junta has made some mistakes, such as censoring the works of old Greek writers and banning beards, it is in solid control unless or until a civil war breaks out. But the military junta explains that it must have the American arms to prevent such war which might end in Communist control.

Unfortunately, Greece is not an isolated example of the expense failure of American methods to discourage Communist advances. The reasons are not merely that Communists have a long range view and a lot of time on their hands. The major reason is that the old rulers of so many of the recipient countries continue to rule, at least economically, and the mass of people are generally as miserable as they ever were.

When the Truman Doctrine was enunciated and the United States began sending massive amounts of aid to Greece in the early 1950's it appeared that the program was a success. The economic growth rate continued at about 8 per cent a year and much foreign exchange was brought in because of the growing popularity of Greece for tourists. But those who had continued to get more. Half a million Greeks had to go outside the borders to find employment every year. Greek politics are emotional and not always very reasonable. Even the continued existence of a monarchy served more to inflame passions than present the sort of security it does in Great Britain.

But Greece is only one of dozens of countries which suddenly now are threatened with resurgent communism or at the least a strong pressure toward the far left. From the Philippines through much of Latin America and into northern Africa there is a growing disillusion with the governments in power and once again warnings of Communist take-overs. Only this time it could be that Communists could be elected to power as they well might in Vietnam if there were a nationwide election. The failure of governments to share the wealth, promote land reform and protect citizens is a major reason. So too is the widespread evidence of corruption. And it is quite likely that some of the black African nations now being ruled to varying degrees by the military are on the way to the same sort of left wing revolt.

It matters little at this stage that communism might not bring any great benefits to the have-nots. The Communists exploit the dissatisfactions, the new yearnings for at least a piece of the pie, the lack of concern among local government and economic leaders for the plight of the poor and the hard facts of population explosions which have not been matched by increases in agricultural or industrial production.

What will the United States do if civil war does indeed break out in Greece? What if Che Guevara is alive and manages to stir up a full fledged revolt in Bolivia or Brazil? It no longer seems obvious that the answer is either more money or more guns.

What About the Beer Tax?

The presentation of his bill to raise the state tax on beer by $1 a barrel by Waukesha Assemblyman Vincent Mathews to an Assembly committee public hearing is being brushed off as a quixotic exercise. It is explained that the bill does not have a chance because of the opposition of the breweries, the brewery workers unions, beer distributors and perhaps even Wisconsin consumers who combine to be what is called the beer lobby in state politics.

But why is not a detailed and calm examination of whether the beer industry is paying its fair share of rising government costs not in order? Assemblyman Mathews estimates raising the beer tax from $1 to $2 a barrel would raise $25 million a year at a time state government must be scratching for new sources of tax revenue.

It is a favorite statement of critics of the level of the beer tax and of lighthearted lecturers on Wisconsin attitudes to point out that the $1 a barrel tax has been in effect without an increase since 1933, a 34 year period when there has been something of an upward trend in all other forms of taxation. As opponents of the Mathews bill pointed out at the hearing, this is not quite a fair generalization since beer manufacturers have been paying the increases in other forms of taxation.

But this avoids the major questions to be answered. Could there be a beer tax increase without substantial harm to the competitive position of Wisconsin breweries contrasted to manufacturers in other states. The average tax of the states is $7.56 a barrel and Michigan has a tax of more than $6 a barrel. And even in Wisconsin isn't beer something of a unique product as opposed to general taxation on other items?

The brewers' spokesmen at the hearing complained that the bill proposed to single out a single product for taxation contrary to good taxing policy. But what is new about that? Cigarettes are a repeated favorite for state tax increases. Federal taxation recently again singled out telephone service and automobiles. Even in Wisconsin there could be a debate on which of all these items are a necessity and which are not.

During the administration of Gov. Gaylord Nelson a blue ribbon committee examining the state's revenue sources and tax burdens concluded a beer tax increase was in order from these viewpoints. The proposal was quickly eliminated from measures which brought among other things the selective sales tax. The findings of the Nelson committee should still form the basis for a new examination of sharing of the tax burden.

While it is not clear whether the act was something of a joke, the Assembly committee has voted seven to three to introduce a Mathews bill to increase the beer tax by four cents a barrel. The brewers have chosen even to oppose this bill on grounds it will be a foot in the door for future increases, perhaps to a goal of 50 cents a barrel.

In all probability any beer tax bill will be dismissed by this session of the Legislature. But that does not mean the subject should be dropped as future legislatures struggle to make revenues match expanding state budgets.

Wisconsin is proud of being the beer capital of the nation. It also is proud of a tradition of fair taxation.

Getting Sex Back Into the Home

Something new is being added to sales ownership of homes — sex appeal.

A Seattle architect builds what he labels a sex pit complete with leopard skin covered couches and a sunken fireplace. One Boston builder advertises a home as the most sinfully luxurious since Rome declined and fell. Some model home promoters casually leave a negligee on a chaise lounge or turn down the covers on the double bed in the master bedroom. Even a Cape Cod development tract has been given a sybaritic canopied beds and shocking pink and midnight black color schemes. One builder puts in a large shower with two shower heads for the couple who carry togetherness everywhere. Backers of the trend argue quite correctly that everything else is sold with sex — why not homes?

But a professor of psychology is critical. It's an attempt like everything else today to make sex more than it is. All you really need are two people and a sleeping bag — not mirrors, terraces in the bathroom and elevated beds. Where will this end?

There is only one advantage to the new trend. Maybe it will serve to get sex back where it belongs — in the home.

Kraft Writes

Analogies on Vietnam Mushroom; One Needs Dictionary of Cliches

BY JOSEPH KRAFT

SAIGON — C. L. Lawrence once observed that reasoning by analogy was like eating soup with a knife: messy to begin with, futile in the end. Are there some reasons to suggest to me why so much of the discussion of Vietnam is so unsatisfactory?

Kraft

Wave after wave of Americans have come over here, known little about the country, will never return, and in other cases. Inevitably they use the familiar categories to describe the strange.

Vietnam is less observed or envisioned than computed. The dialogue is given in huge clumps which can be identified and classified only in a dictionary of cliches.

The richest crop by far has been generated out of American experience either historical or current. For example, before the late President Ngo Dinh Diem was unseated in a military coup, Ambassador Frederick Nolting had a pat line on the matter of Diem's difficulty with the military. Lincoln, he used to say, had trouble with his generals, too.

ELECTION OBSERVERS

The team of observers which came over here for the recent presidential elections produced a spate of comparisons between Vietnam and the United States, usually to the disadvantage of the American political system. Former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, when asked about two Vietnamese candidates stricken from the ballot here, told of what the Democrats tried to do to him in one Senate race. They tried to eliminate him from the ballot on the grounds that he — he of all men — was not a citizen of Massachusetts.

A staff member of the observer group, Richard Scammon, was asked in a press conference about pressures on the voter by the military junta here. That reminded him of charges back in 1936 that companies put pressure on workers not to vote for Roosevelt.

Scammon was then asked whether he had come all the way out here to make such observations. He said: "Well, it's like being a doctor. He can tell a broken arm by feeling it. But it's better if he has an X-ray." And he then moved quickly on to the next question.

Almost as much as American experience, experience in other Asian lands has furnished food for analogy in Vietnam. Ask any American general here about the performance of the South Vietnamese forces, and he is likely to say:

Back in 1951, the Korean troops didn't look so good either. But we took them into the line with our forces. Now there are no finer soldiers anywhere.

The former deputy ambassador here, U. Alexis Johnson, used to cite as a model for Vietnam the kind of leadership he had found in Thailand under a military strong man. People connected with the mysterious mission of Major General Edwin Lansdale have usually been pressed to cite the ways famous Philippine leader checked the Huk rebellion. This country, they say of Vietnam, has to generate a Magsaysay.

ANALOGIES WITH EUROPE

Analogies with Europe are also abundant. Munich and Berlin crises too numerous to mention are always cited as evidence for the proposition that conciliatory attitudes spell disaster while toughness pays off. A very intelligent information officer steeped in the cold war with Russia once said: "You have to remember North Vietnam was cut off by China from the Khrush hev experience. In Hanoi they're still a bunch of Stalinists."

Then there are whole armies of counter-insurgency experts full of citations from Mao about fish in water and from Marshall Lyautey about spreading inkspots. Former Assistant Secretary of State Roger Hilsman used to find sovereign remedies for any Vietnamese ailment in his experience as a guerilla behind Japanese lines in Burma during World War II. A favorite view of how this war might end goes this way: "They'll fade out like Greece."

In fairness, I suppose I must own to a couple of analogies that I sometimes use myself. On good days I think of Algeria and of General de Gaulle's political courage in forcing a settlement despite the worst kind of jingoistic pressure from his military advisers and political supporters.

Most of the time, however, I am reminded of the new novel of anti-novel as it is sometimes called. Amid random patches of boredom, violence, despair and repetition, I see flecks of action which seem to be part of a coherent plot. But in fact the plot leads nowhere, and one comes away with the sensation of a story without a point which can be neither retold nor understood.

Betty M. It is time farmers realize just what the CED is and what it really stands for. It is cited as a lineal descendant of both the Political and Economic Planning (PEP) and the National Planning Association. PEP has been noted to exchanging ideas and personnel with the New Fabian Research Bureau. This organization was one of the earliest Fabian Socialist front organizations.

There soon became many series of similar and related organizations — of which one became the CED. These organizations acquired almost mystic prestige, all became of an aim to affect national policy and to shape public opinion while remaining immune to public control. The CED is supported by commerce and industry quite mysteriously through donations. It is a non-government organization.

If the farmers awaken to these facts, they will soon stop being discontented. I have yet to find a family farmer who will give up his birthright [illegible] I fight [illegible] put the CED [illegible] Price.

It is [illegible] the farmers and consumers realize we are not fighting prices and a fair return alone but fighting to keep America free from the socialism that is growing in our country until we one day awaken to communism. Most Delinquents in State Institutions Due to be Released

BY SANGER B. POWERS

MADISON — The Wisconsin corrections system has in a sense been caught up in a numbers game these past several years in attempting to cope with the increasing number of juvenile delinquents committed by juvenile courts.

Powers

Sanger B. Powers is the administrator of the State Division of Corrections and substitutes today as state affairs columnist for vacationing John Wyngaard.

As an example, the number of delinquent boys received at the reception center at the Wisconsin School for Boys increased from 1,019 in 1962 to slightly over 2,009 in 1966 — an increase approximating 100 per cent. During that period the average length of stay fell from 6 to 3½ months, reflecting a static capacity and a rising rate of admissions.

A dramatic albeit temporary decrease in the number of juvenile delinquents confined to institutions seems likely to occur as a result of the recent United States Supreme Court decision in the case of Gault vs. Arizona. In this decision the Supreme Court held that juveniles alleged to be delinquent must be afforded substantially the same protection given adult offenders in the criminal courts, including the right to counsel at all stages of juvenile court proceedings, the right to confrontation of witnesses and the right to trial by jury.

MANY SEEK RELEASE

During recent weeks a number of petitions for writs of habeas corpus have been filed on behalf of juvenile delinquents by [illegible] means to employ counsel. In each of these cases it has been alleged that the detention had not been in accordance with its right to [illegible] by jury at the time of his juvenile court hearing. In all of these cases the juveniles have been set free by court order.

A survey by the Division of Corrections would tend to indicate that approximately 85 per cent of the 1,100 juvenile delinquents presently confined in correctional institutions were not represented by attorneys in juvenile court and probably were not informed of their right to representation or to trial by jury. Presumably, [illegible] have [illegible] will be set free by the courts if, as now appears probable, petitions for writs of habeas corpus are filed in their behalf — by court appointed attorneys in all likelihood.

Of special concern is the possible release of something over 200 delinquents who had been transferred to the Reformatory. Many of these delinquents had been transferred there because of aggressive, assaultive behavior in a boys school or on parole. Others were transferred following repeated serious parole violations involving the commission of new crimes including burglary, armed robbery, aggravated assault or car theft.

NONE FOUND INNOCENT

In none of the cases where petitions for writ of habeas corpus have been filed on the basis of the Gault decision has any allegation been made that the juvenile is innocent of the offense which resulted in the finding of delinquency. To the contrary, in most cases guilt is quite readily admitted. Most of the juveniles freed by the courts will in all probability soon again be in custody. The first juvenile to be released from the Reformatory via writ of habeas corpus was apprehended within two weeks following commission of an armed robbery.

Unfortunately, in a habeas corpus action the questions of guilt or innocence or the public protection are not before the court and cannot be argued. Few delinquents are in custody of the Division of Corrections because of such simple delinquent acts as truancy or disobedience. Most have been involved in serious law violations.

Thus far, in none of the actions resulting in the release of delinquents pursuant to the Gault decision have the elements of the public interest or the public safety been at issue. Hopefully some device other than habeas corpus action may be found to provide for the judicial review of cases in which juvenile delinquents have allegedly been denied certain rights.

Perhaps in some manner the right of the public to protection from continued criminal and delinquent acts can be given at least as much consideration as the rights of an individual offender.

Strictly Personal

We Learn Hard Way, But We Do Learn

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Ever one knows from his personal life that youth and age [illegible] relative terms. To a teen-ager a person of 40 is approaching senility, but Justice Holmes at 90 once sighed: "Oh, to be a young man of 70 again!"

Harris

What is true in the life of the person is true in the collective existence of the human race. We speak of the ancient Babylonians and the antique Romans who flourished and fell thousands of years ago.

But look at the entire course of human history from the perspective of astronomy or geology, and the human race seems ridiculously young. We have indeed scarcely learned to crawl out of our cradle and stand up.

Our solar system is countless millions of years old; our Earth is almost the same venerable age; yet mankind has been civilized for only a few thousand years — roughly the equivalent of one minute compared to a year.

We are not old as a species, we are rejected by young. Compared to the life of our planet we have scarcely been born.

The only other way I can see to pessimism, unless one can top it from the bloody and confusing present, is to scan the vast panorama of creation. Only then can it be seen that man has [illegible] before [illegible] to [illegible] to [illegible] Make [illegible] Him.

We may, it is true, destroy ourselves — but not entirely. And those few survivors picking themselves out of the rubble will band even more closely together to realize the basic idea of human brotherhood. We learn the hard way — but we learn.

It is easy to feel despair in these chaotic times. But it would be intellectually wrong and spiritually debasing not to recognize that we are still living in our cosmic infancy, and that it may take another 50,000 years for us to become what our saints and sages have always told us we must become.

False pessimism is as foolish as false optimism. Man may not be as perfectibel as the 19th Century optimists believed, but neither is he as irrevocably doomed as the 20th Century pessimists would have us believe.

Red China's Instability No Threat at Present

Anarchy Sweeping Nation, Nuclear Capabilities Problem for the Future

BY ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

HONG KONG — A map of China in the office of one of the West's foremost China experts tells the stark scarcely credible story of anarchy now sweeping that country.

By using red and black pins red to show cities where effective government simply disappeared, black to show cities where the Red Guards of Mao Tse-tung are in control — the map portrays the results of the Great Cultural Revolution. Of China's 60 largest cities only ten are marked with black pins.

Novak

Evans

Behind this vivid statistic lies the backdrop of what life with an effective government in the world's largest country is like. In the last several months only one traveler according to well authenticated reports from sources inside China has been able to travel by rail from Peking to Canton along the main rail line running south from the capital. That main line simply does not operate anymore either because the railroad workers have walked off the job because the Red Guards have taken over the trains and wrecked them or because of pitched battles between workers and Red Guards along the right of way.

Takes Five Days

To go from Peking to Canton today it is necessary to swing far off course to the east and come down via Shanghai. From Shanghai to Canton which sits less than 100 miles from Hong Kong in South China the rail trip now consumes five days. It ought to take less than two.

A Scandinavian friendship group visited Peking several days ago and its leader in a discussion with foreign ministry officials mentioned Lyndon Johnson and former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in the same sentence with Mao Tse-tung. For this sin he was compelled to make public apology before an angry crowd of Red Guards the next day and then recite from the sayings of Mao.

This demonstration of xenophobia is so bizarre as to be ludicrous but other things now happening in China are not funny at all for the future of Mao's impossible dream to purge his own Communist cadres to keep China in a state of perpetual revolution and exorcize every trace of bourgeois impurity.

Fear Red Guards

The breakdown of government institutions and the slow defection of thousands of Communist bureaucrats from their jobs because of terror of the Red Guards has virtually ended all record keeping. One result of this is a predictable food crisis in urban areas next winter perhaps matching the famine conditions brought on by the Great Leap Forward of 1958.

Farmers aren't sending their allotments to the cities. Even if they did the breakdown in transportation would probably block it from getting there.

Furthermore students are now leaving universities in the cities and going home to their ancestral villages avoid getting caught up in the lethal struggle between the Red Guards and the revisionist Communist bureaucrats they are terrorizing.

For while the cities are in a state of anarchy the ancient village structure of the country side is still largely intact despite the communes and nearly 20 years of Communism.

Where Will It Lead?

If as Mao himself now predicts the cultural revolution continues for another two years where will it lead and what will be left of Maoism? No one knows but on two concrete points the evidence seems clear enough.

First the new weapons program the development of nuclear arms has not been affected at all by the bedlam that has seized virtually every other aspect of Chinese industrial development.

And second the prospect of Chinese intervention in the Vietnam war recedes every day that the cultural revolution continues. Even more significant the transportation breakdown is certain to interfere soon with the flow of Chinese war supplies into North Vietnam.

Thus there is one inescapable conclusion for the U.S. the reckless instability of China coupled with its growing nuclear capability poses a most dangerous threat at some future point. But for Hanoi the threat of losing China's aid in the war and of getting caught in the backlash of the cultural revolution is not in the future. It is here and now.

North Central Will Offer New Midwest Route

North Central Airlines will offer new Minneapolis-St. Paul-Sioux Falls and Sioux City-Kansas City non-stop service as well as through plane service between Kansas City and nine other Midwest cities under a recent Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) order.

The CAB authorized Braniff International to suspend its operations at Sioux Falls, S. D. and Sioux City, Iowa.

Northliner flights will begin as soon as arrangements can be made at Kansas City. The airline will be serving Missouri for the first time.

In reaching its decision the CAB pointed out that North Central's proposal permits new single plane service between Kansas City and Huron, Aberdeen, Bismarck, Mandan, Minot, Grand Forks, Fargo, Moorhead and Watertown in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

North Central will operate Douglas DC-9 fan jets and Convair 580 prop jets on the route.

$1,500 Cash Lost From Car Returned to Owner

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Edward M. Neuman, president of a lumber company, recently lost out of his car a bank deposit bag containing $1,125 in cash and $5,000 in checks. A week later a man walked up to Neuman, asked "Are you Mr. Neuman?" then handed over the bag with money and checks intact. The man who appeared to be in his 60s declined to identify himself or take a reward.

Aquanauts Affected

Fish With Poisonous Spines Peril to Divers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A potential danger for Sealab 3 aquanauts — poison-spined fish likely to flock to the underwater habitat like tourists to a new hotel — is under study by scientists at the University of Southern California.

Navy Cmdr. Scott Carpenter, the nation's only astronaut-aquanaut was stung painfully two years ago in an excursion from Sealab 2 off La Jolla, Calif. by a variety of scorpion fish called a sculpin.

The sculpin and other venomous marine creatures may be a hazard also to inhabitants of biologist supported by the office of naval research.

Russell said little is known about the habits of the sculpin and "we plan to tag those we find in the area or we may put sonar devices on them in order to follow their patterns. We may find it necessary to use their natural enemies to keep them away from the project."

We are not sure yet just how the venom works, he said in an interview after the school released a report on the new project. But apparently it acts in several ways including interference with the heart's normal pacemaker. It also seems to cause changes in the central nervous system through decreasing the blood supply.

Carpenter and others have described the pain caused by venom from spines along the sculpin's back as severe. Although seldom fatal, the sting can incapacitate a man for several hours or even days.

Finding ways Sealab 3 divers can avoid being stung when they leave the 2 by-26-foot tank-like vessel is a major part of a study under way by Russell and Dr. Paul Saunders, USC biologist supported by the office of naval research.

Russell said little is known about the habits of the sculpin and "we plan to tag those we find in the area or we may put sonar devices on them in order to follow their patterns. We may find it necessary to use their natural enemies to keep them away from the project."

Don't Delay Surgery For Hernia Repair

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a double hernia but they don't protrude too much and don't bother me when I am walking. I am 46 and do not attempt to do any strenuous lifting, but I want to put my mind at rest.

I just can't see having an operation as the condition doesn't appear to bother me that much. — D.S.

If you expect me to put your mind at rest, you've knocked at the wrong door. The risk is that if a hernia does begin to "bother you that much," the hernia or rupture will have become larger and be more difficult to repair. Or it may even become strangulated, meaning that emergency surgery will be necessary to save your life as well as to relieve the utter agony of that phase of the trouble.

The only sensible advice I can give you is to have your doctor examine you, find out how far each hernia has progressed, and tell you whether to have the surgery now, or whether you can safely wait a little while — with periodic examinations to see how things are going

A hernia doesn't get better by itself. All it can do is get worse, and the smartest patient is the one who has the surgical repair done before the damage is too great, and while he is still in good health and will tolerate the operation with comparative ease

Dear Dr. Molner: Please give information about a round spot on top of an eight-year-old boy's head. It is about 1½ inches. All the hair is gone and the skin is smooth. — Mrs. N.E.M.

Could be ringworm — in which case get him to your doctor. Could be something else, too. In other words — same advice.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son in high school plays basketball on the varsity team plus in summer camp and has hopes of being a professional player one day. However, he suffers badly with shin splints. I realize he will probably have to live with shin splints but is there something we can do to ease the pain? — Mrs. S.B.

Shin splints is a disorder under the lining of the bone, resulting from jarring or from direct injury For complete relief the only thing he can do is stop playing and rest.

After all, the pain is nature's warning of the presence of the condition. I don't like to throw cold water on a boy's ambition to be good at his chosen sport, but perhaps he is pushing himself harder than he should.

Dear Dr. Molner: According to an article I read, fluoridated water tends to prevent hardening of the arteries If one wanted to fluoridate one's own drinking water, what would one use, and in what proportion? I have also heard that caffeine contributes to hardening of the arteries. Is this so? — A.W.S.

There isn't the slightest doubt in my inquisitive mind that the principal cause of hardening of the arteries is growing older — and I have no desire to stop growing older.

That, and heredity. And I can't change that

Maybe some important means of preventing hardening of the arteries will be discovered. Let's hope so. But so far as I can discern, neither fluoride nor caffeine nor any of the "health foods," nor anything else has any proved influence that amounts to much in that regard.

If you want to try fluoride, you can get fluoride pills at your drug store. You'll find directions on the bottle.

If you are still around 100 years from now, and decide that fluoride did it, write and tell me.

Taxi Driving Proves Top Moonlighting Post For Off-Duty Police

NEW YORK (AP) -- Pall-bearing, golf-promoting and modeling are some of the jobs New York's policemen have come up with since a recent department order allowed patrolmen to moonlight

The department announced Monday that 979 of the city's 28,000 police have requested permission to hold part-time jobs off duty hours.

Of these, 816 plan to drive taxicabs, and these requests were being processed almost immediately as a move to cut down on robberies of hackies.

Former Senator Backs Policy In Vietnam

WHITTIER, Calif (AP) Former Sen Paul H Douglas, D-Ill., calls the Vietnam war "a turning point in history"

"If we abandon South Vietnam, it will fall then Laos," Douglas told newsmen while in Whittier for freshman orientation week ceremonies at Whittier College

"I doubt we could defend Thailand, and Indonesia would also go to ths Communists."

Douglas, 75, said he believes it nautral for people to have doubts about the Vietnam war, as many did the Civil War but he said a majority of Americans seem to support U S involvement

Policeman Bugged in Vacant House Check

BALTIMORE (AP) A Baltimore policeman checking on a vacant house reported back to officials that the assignment bugged him

Patrolman Joseph Scheach went to Mercy Hospital where he was fumigated to rid himself of hundreds of small brown bugs that jumped on him when he entered the house

Hospital officials said they believed the bugs were fleas just waiting around in the house for a warm-blooded prey. Scheach said he didn't care what they were as long as he got rid of them

Bill Extends Reporting of Child Abuse

Hephner Wants Dentists, Hospital Officials Included

Post Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Dentists should be compelled to report suspected child abuse to police and welfare authorities, Assem. Gervase Hephner, D-Chilton, contended Tuesday

Making his comments to the Assembly Public Welfare Committee of a bill which he has co-sponsored with 13 other legislators, Hephner pointed out that many children suffering mouth injuries in beatings are not taken to doctors or nurses — required to report under the law now — but to dentists.

The loophole should be closed, he contended

Other Provisions

Other provisions of the bill would require that hospital administrators also be added to the list, that reports could be made to local police departments as well as to sheriffs and welfare authorities, and that persons making such reports be immune from civil as well as criminal action if the statements prove to be incorrect

Hephner said that as a matter of course hospital administrators are told by doctors and nurses of such reports before they are made, and that the channels should therefore be opened to the administrators as well

Allow Police Reports

Reports should be allowed to local police officials because most people would automatically think of turning to the police if suspecting abuse of a child, he said.

The bill also drew the support of the State Dental Society, the State Bar Association, the State Department of Health and Social Services, and the Wisconsin Hospital Association

Other Northeastern Wisconsin authors include Assem. William Rogers, D-Kaukauna, Herbert Grover, D-Shawano, Joseph Sweda, D-Lublin, Leslie Stevenson, D-Marinette, and Raymond Heinzen, R-Marshfield

'Doesn't Solve Problems'

Legislators Cool to Maier's Plan to Use State Revenues

MADISON (AP) Milwaukee Mayor Henry Maier's plea for more state cash for the cities in the wake of racial rioting has met with skeptical and unsympathetic questioning from Republican leaders of the Wisconsin Legislature

Assembly majority leader Curtis McKay R-Cedarburg charged Wednesday that Maier was using Milwaukee's racial unrest to push a package of money proposals that doesn't really solve those problems

It's like saying I have a terrible pain in my foot You should pay my light bill said McKay

Day Long Hearing

Maier went before an Assembly committee headed by McKay at a day long hearing to urge state aid for urban renewal state help in paying police costs creation of a state housing agency and specific authority for a county wide open housing ordinance

Militant Negro marchers have demonstrated in Milwaukee for 17 straight days in calling for an open housing ordinance in the city A week of racial uprising resulted in four deaths and more than 1 600 arrests in early August

Maier's package was estimated by budget experts to cost the state anywhere from $60 million to $135 million over the next two years

McKay said the proposal for county authority in open housing might win passage but warned The ones with the money in them are going to have tough sledding

Takes No Action

The Assembly Municipalities Committee took no immediate action on the package McKay said his committee might make recommendations on the nine measures Friday

Maier was scheduled to appear again before the Republican controlled committee late today to support his proposals to give hard pressed cities a greater share of the state income tax sales tax and utility tax

The Milwaukee mayor won backing for his measures Wednesday from Madison Mayor Otto Festge and Fond du Lac Mayor Henry Bulke but collided with traditional opposition from the suburbs

Officials both south Milwaukee and West Allis testified before the committee to oppose any changes particularly on the home rule matter

Maier's request for county authority in open housing was backed by GOP Gov Warren P Knowles who was represented by an aide at the hearing But the mayor's stance nevertheless was sharply questioned by the Republican lawmakers

Maier said a county ordinance was needed for the metropolitan area rather than city action that would drive more middle-class residents into the suburbs He charged We have the most segregated suburbs in the United States

clusively to either group

We haven't applied the Declaration of Independence fully he said

Right Right' came the reply

Said Romney We are faced with a very explosive situation

Applause rocked the little room along with another chant of Right Right

A stocky Negro man leaned forward and demanded If you can't handle Detroit what can we expect of you in this nation

Romney answered that it was too big for any one man

Then another man who said he had lived in Detroit said In Detroit we lived like dogs

Tell him' someone in the crowd yelled Tell him'

The man from Detroit then asked the governor What do I tell my six children What do I tell my six children that I want on you'

You can't say presto and eliminate these problems Romney said

A younger man said We want to make it to the top on our own Will you help us help ourselves

Sure said Romney It's the only way

VFAX to Supplement TFX

WASHINGTON (AP) Secretary of Defense Robert S McNamara has directed the Navy and Air Force to proceed with preliminary work on a new high performance combat aircraft even as his TFX warplane program continues plagued by engineering problems and buffeted by political controversy

Officials say the new plane would replace the F4 current first line mainstay in the Vietnam air war and would supplement—not substitute for—the TFX or F111

Designated the VFAX the craft is intended to be both a fighter and a dive bomber It probably would have a swingwing sport a new engine and pack the most advanced weapons and electronic gear top Navy officials say

Show Interest

As Pentagon studies continue aerospace contractors are showing intense interest in what could develop into a multibillion dollar addition to the U S air arsenal

The contractors are all doing a lot of work already Vice Adm T F Connolly deputy chief of naval operations told a Senate appropriations subcommittee in testimony released Wednesday The situation has gone quiet so far

At the same July 14 hearing Paul H Nitze deputy secretary of defense disclosed that development of the Navy's version of the TFX the F111F now is 21 years behind schedule because of inherent technical difficulties

Nitze and other Pentagon officials also conceded in their censored testimony that —The latest Navy test model is extremely deficient in combat mission capability

—Test pilots have reported the F111B models they flew contained 252 deficiencies including 100 they classified as mandatory for correction

These pilots concluded that development models are unsuitable for service

—Estimated per unit costs of a fully equipped F111B now stand at about $10 million more than triple original estimates

Controversy over the TFX has raged since 1962 when McNamara awarded General Dynamics Corp a contract to develop an all purpose craft that could meet major mission responsibilities of both the Air Force and Navy

The Air Force version the F111A has been relatively trouble free since say the Air Force replaces some F111A's in Vietnam next year but officials told the committee that carrier tests of the Navy version won't begin until August 1969

Hopes Buoyed

Rockefeller Support Possible for Romney

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov Nelson A Rockefeller's formal disavowal of presidential ambitions buoyed hopes of Gov Romney supporters that the Michigan governor might win New York's 92 votes at the 1968 Republican convention

In both moderate and conservative party circles Rockefeller's declaration Wednesday that he has attained a sense of fulfillment and no longer is interested in going after the presidential nomination was accepted as defining his present intentions

But there were quick reservations that shifting political tides —particularly if Romney should falter in the presidential primaries next spring—could force the New York governor change his mind about being available

Not Convinced

Rockefeller himself bugged off the possibility of a draft saying I'm not convinced these things happen

Rockefeller voiced the opinion that Romney may be able to convert into an asset what politicians generally regard as Romney's blundering assertion that he was brainwashed by Johnson administration officials on a 1965 visit to Vietnam

That statement contributed to the Detroit News' stressing that Romney turn the wheel of his campaign bandwagon to Rockefeller The New York Times called Rockefeller the party's strongest candidate

Not Intellectual

Pledging support to Romney for Romney Rockefeller said he had passed a psychological turning point and had reached fulfillment working toward as governor

It's not a question of whether I'm done anything or have been successful or not I've had more enjoyment out of what I'm doing now

He said his reelection in 1966 over Democrat Frank O'Connor and two other candidates was a vindication of the things I had been working for the climax for me as far as I am concerned

You have to prove yourself anew and Now I'm free to concentrate on the problems of the state and I'm getting more complete satisfaction and enjoyment out of my work

Know Heartaches

I've been close enough to the problems to know the heartaches and heartbreak behind the headlines Rumor flunders and the problem of the county and the responsibilities of the President But other people are seeking the nomination I'm not

If his name is entered in presidential preference primaries without his consent Rockefeller said he will take whatever action is necessary to remove it

Asked whether he might go to the 1968 convention as a favorite son he said he would as a last resort to hold the New York delegation together but it will not be evidence of any wish or intention on my present position

He denied he is engaged in any political maneuvers designed to get the nomination for himself

What I'm doing is too simple he said The press has never understood or believed what I say They think there must be something complicated behind it but there isn't

Two Lost Cows Found, However Stay in Hideaway

NEWHALL Calif (AP) — Two of Alvin Cook Hereford cows may be lost but Cook and everybody else knows exactly where the are

Trouble is nobody can get the 9 month old white face heifers out

The life is good there in a steep sided ravine with plenty of grass and water from a stream at the foot of Oat Mountain about five miles southwest of Newhall

After Cook and a wrangler discovered the animals Saturday the men began trying to bring them out but rattlers blocked the way

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals asked the fire department to help but it was decided it was too dangerous a job for helicopter

Cook a sixth grader who grazes 42 head of leased range said the heifers apparently became entangled in brush and tumbled into the ravine

Chattanooga Wins First Court Tests

CHATTANOOGA Tenn (AP) Chattanooga still holds its famous civil war hoochoo after winning two skirmishes with the state of Georgia

But it's only the first round said Mayor John Adams of Kennesaw Ga which celebrated a railroad fair today without the top billed attraction the civil war locomotive General

The engine star of the Great Locomotive Chase of 1862 was seized by Chattanooga raiders Tuesday in a replay of a Civil War hijacking And the Chattanoogan continued to win in court Wednesday

Chancellor Ray Brock ruled that Chattanooga had made a strong enough case to allow his original injunction and attachment of the General to stand

The Chattanooga boarding party of mayor city commission and pistol packing police waving Brock's order stopped the General just as the Louisville & Nashville Railroad was about to send it to Kennesaw for permanent enshrinement

Chattanooga charged in court Wednesday that the engine had been promised to the city as a permanent memorial

The General appears on the city's official seal and many contend it is the original Chattanooga Choo Choo

Rockefeller Not Slamming Door On '68 Chances

Governor Doesn't Plan to Campaign, Still Is Available

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller sounds like a man who would love to be president if he could have the Republican nomination handed to him.

He is a long way from having closed all the doors on himself.

In view of some of the things he has said and done in the past it can be taken with a grain of salt when he says as he has repeatedly that under no circumstances will I be a candidate for the Republican nomination in 1968.

Wednesday in an interview with The Associated Press he said: I'm just not going to be a candidate. This is probably accurate if it means he won't go stumping the country and campaigning in state primaries.

And he repeated what he said before. If his name should be entered in some of the states' preferential primaries where it can be done without an individual's consent, I will take what ever steps are necessary to remove my name.

Rockefeller, a three-term governor who won last in 1966, gave the impression that as far as he is concerned he has reached the end of his political road and is ready to have it that way.

He has been a key figure in full meetings and in private conversations to get a top Republican candidate who would have a chance of winning. I'm not encouraging anything happening.

These can be boiled down into simple statements. While he has not ruled out the possibility of campaigning, he is not encouraging anyone to enter his name in the primaries. He is not encouraging anyone to enter his name at the convention as a favorite son candidate at a time when Republican delegates might look elsewhere for the nomination.

The implication is that Rockefeller is not available for nomination at all, even out of consideration.

Never Used

On December 19, 1963, he said he would not be a candidate in 1964, a statement that could be interpreted as ruling out the presidency in 1968. Nixon said the same thing.

He told the governors' conference after the 1964 election that he would not be a candidate in 1968. Rockefeller added, however, that he would reconsider if he felt he could make a contribution.

Early this year, Rockefeller told a group of Republican governors that he would not be a candidate in 1968 and that he would not encourage anyone to get up a draft movement.

Buy Bonds

Rockefeller's withdrawal statements have been more watered down than he envisioned. But like Nixon before him, Goldwater, the election.

While Rockefeller gives the impression of being governor, fact that he would like this third term race in 1966 probably very important to him. He still has hopes for the presidency if a launching pad. If he had the election he would be politically finished.

While Goldwater is not running again next year, the Republican convention will be loaded with of Goldwater and the memory of Rockefeller, many disappointed that he made to draft him. He campaigned and the party and he pledged support to the ultimate nominee. All hope of himself he tacked. Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton of the nomination. He was not out.

Then Rockefeller boosted tremendously by the Goldwater gates when the platform amendment repudiating extremists. Then he attacked Goldwater views on extremism and refused to campaign for him.

Israeli Fashions Travel the World

Delicate hand embroidered beadwork highlighted a showing of fashions crafted by students at Hadassah's Alice Seligsberg Vocational High School in Jerusalem at a fashion show held by the Appleton Chapter of Hadassah Monday at Moses Montefiore Social Center.

The styles, all very simple in line, gained their flair from the extensive use of the rich looking beadwork and the use of metallic threads in fabric designs.

Formal Wear Outstanding

Outstanding in the travelon from the Isreali school was the evening and formal wear. Commentator for the show, Mrs. Ben Goldin, Kaukauna, modeled a simple black cocktail dress with a high neckline and long sleeves, set off by a border of black beads at the neckline, sleeves and hem.

Beads also appeared in a floor length evening style cut high at the neck in front and dipping to a low square in back. The pale green A-line dress was trimmed with beads and delicate embroidery.

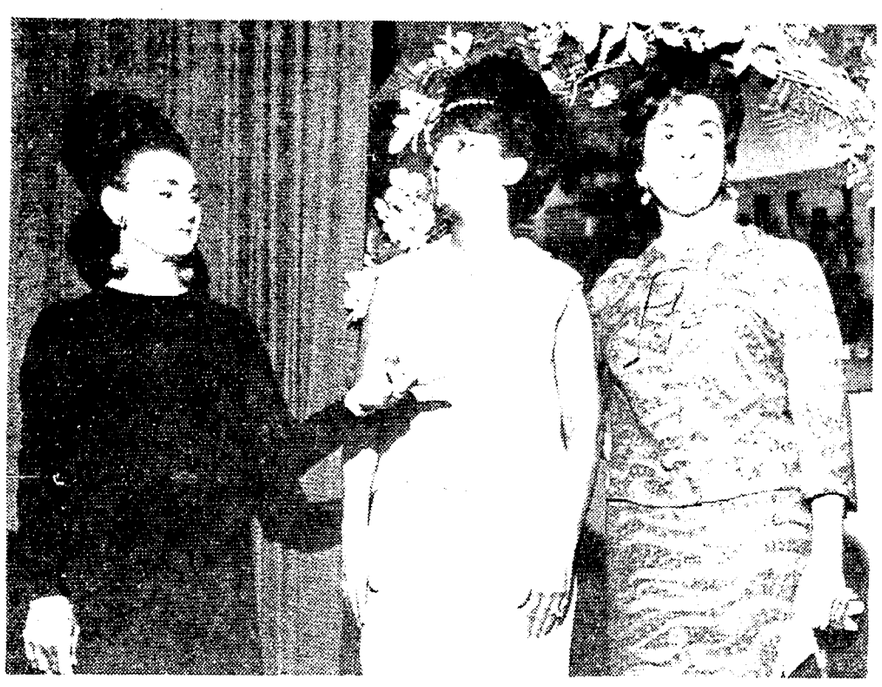
Another beaded evening fashion was a striking aqua floor length dress cut in the classic empire line with a low neckline, bordered in embroidered beadwork in emerald and blue. Patterned beads covered the dress from neck to hem, ending with a border at the floor.

Worn over the aqua dress was a floor length evening coat fashioned in black cut velvet in a floral pattern. The simply designed coat has a mock train for dramatic back appeal.

Also predominant in the imported fashions was the use of metallic threads in hand-woven fabrics, from which many of the suits were crafted.

The rich fabrics, many showing the influence of the designer's native country, were designed and woven by the students who come from 80 countries to study at the Hadassah school.

Notable in the collection were several fine wools in easy suits for town or country. The double-breasted look is seen in a brown suit with widely spaced buttons on the jacket. The look was carried to the skirt by the placing of four buttons on the skirt front.



Mrs. Ben Goldin, Kaukauna, above left, moderator for the showing of imported fashions, modeled a black cocktail dress with beading worked into the fabric. Modeling two of the suits in the collection are Mrs. Leo Golper and Mrs. Harold Rusky. Mrs. Golper's suit has white and aqua flowers on a honeycomb yellow background. The taffeta lined suit has self buttons. Mrs. Rusky is wearing a paisley linen suit in shades of pink, coral and red, with a framing stand-up collar with ties. At right, Mrs. Dan Napuck, Neenah, wears an evening costume of a long green and gold brocade over a slim green underskirt with a petal-cut opening in the front. The tunic features a keyhole neckline. (Post-Crescent Photos)

A Special Showing of fashions designed and made by students at the Alice Seligsberg Vocational School in Jerusalem was presented for members of the Appleton Chapter of Hadassah Monday. At right, Mrs. Simon Cherkasky admires the fabric in the three-piece knitted suit modeled by Miss Lin Cherkasky. Miss Marcie Abramson, wearing a pale green full length evening gown trimmed with hand embroidery and beadwork looks on. The sleeveless dress scoops to a low neckline in back.

Misinformation on Birth Defect Distresses Saddened Mother

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I married young. I was 16 and Ted was 20. We were very happy for the first two years. We had a child whom we both wanted and we love her very much.

Last year when I was pregnant with a second baby Ted became involved with a 16-year-old tramp. When I learned of the affair, he promised he would stop seeing her and he kept his word. I had a very difficult pregnancy, however, and the baby was born with a birth defect. My doctor said the defect was due to the emotional strain which I suffered while carrying the child.

I have tried to forgive Ted, but I can't seem to do it. Whenever I look at the baby I blame him all over again. Please help me get over hating my husband. I am making my life miserable, and his as well. — Bitter Woman

Dear Woman: I have checked with physicians in Chicago, Washington and Boston and all three say it would be impossible to state for certain that the birth defect was due to emotional upset during pregnancy. So, in the interest of fairness, stop blaming your husband.

You might also do that doctor a favor and suggest that he do some serious investigating in the field of birth defects so that he doesn't continue to cause unnecessary anguish to other mothers who may have defective babies.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl 15 and have been begging my parents for a year to let me have a boy-girl party. Well, they finally said O.K. for my birthday. The party was last night and I am just sick. One couple wandered off into a bedroom and were necking up a storm when my mother walked in on them. She told them to get out of the bedroom and to join the others. They were so embarrassed they left without saying good-bye.

This morning my mother tore into me like it was my fault or something. I really feel awful. This couple has been going steady for ages and it is not my business what they do but I think they had some nerve to make out in our home. Now my mother says I can't have any more boy-girl parties for a year. Is this fair? — Innocent Victim of Oversexed Friends

Dear Vic: Your mother should not hold you responsible for the conduct of your friends. I do feel that you should let this couple know that you are keenly disappointed in them, and if your mother should reconsider and give you another chance, chop the love-birds off your next party list.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was amused by the letter from the California woman who resented being called "Doll" by the butcher, "Honey" by the gas station attendant, "Sweetheart" by the parking lot fellow and "Sugar" by the postman.

In London the women are called "Ducky" while in the northern provinces it is "Luv." My favorite pet name for the ladies is one which originated in Scotland, however. It is "Hen." How do you think that one would go over in the U. S., Ann? — R. D. C. of Vancouver

Dear Van.: Don't try it. Chick, yes . . . but Hen — never!

Partner Is Doing His Best

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

When your partner adopts the line of play that is most likely to succeed, give the poor fellow a kind word. Even if he has settled for half a loaf, remember that most of your partners are content with crumbs.

South started with two rounds of trumps, cleared the ace of hearts out of the way and led a low club to try a finesse with dummy's jack. This would bring in the twelfth trick if West had both the king and queen of clubs.

East won with the queen of clubs and returned the jack of spades. South hopefully put up the queen, but West covered with the king, forcing out the ace.

Declarer cashed the ace of clubs, hoping the king would fall. Next, he discarded a club on the king of hearts and ruffed a club. When the king of clubs stubbornly failed to fall, South had no further resources. Down one.

Dutch Compliment

North was unhappy about the result but managed to give his partner a cheerful word. "I'm sure you're doing your best," he said, and South smiled gratefully for this Dutch compliment.

South played correctly in relying chiefly on the clubs, but there was no harm in testing the hearts also. South should know only one round of trumps instead of two. Then he clears the ace of hearts, loses a club to the queen and wins the spade return in dummy. He cashes the ace of clubs, discards a club on the king of hearts and ruffs a club.

When the clubs fail to produce a trick, South still has the hearts in reserve. He leads a trump to dummy's ten and ruffs a heart. When the queen of hearts falls, South can lead a trump to dummy's seven to cash the jack of hearts.

The whole loaf is better than just half.

As dealer, you hold: S- Q 3, H- A, D- A K Q J 6 4 3, C- 10 5 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one diamond. Do not dream of making a shutout bid on so powerful a hand. If partner has a good hand, you may get to a makable slam after opening with a simple bid of one; but you would miss the slam if you opened with three diamonds.

Glossary of 'Olde' English Revives Forgotten Words

BY ARLENE ALLIGOOD

SUFFOLK, L.I. N.Y. (AP) — Dear Natalie . . . whoever you are . . . you're marvelous!

I have just finished reading your "refresher glossary of some language, still necessary to us all, not long ago in common usage," in this month's Bazaar. I feel better already.

The problem started last night.

We were sitting at this marvelous little outdoor cafe in the village . . . sipping some excellent white wine . . . and discussing the TV special my friend is writing on psychedelic drugs and hippies.

They're such nice people," she was saying. "Of course, if they're freaked out you can't . . ."

"Freaked out?" I said.

"You know . . . freaked out," she said.

"Mmmm," I grunted, indicating I understood the explanation.

"So then the speedster said that . . ."

"Speedster?" I said, interrupting again.

"You know . . . speed . . . speedster," she said, this time impatiently.

She'd make a good writer for Webster's. I thought . . . like when you looked up "arbitrator" and it says "an arbiter."

So, Natalie, I was feeling very uninformed until I read your plea for an organized mass revival among all over-thirties of dear old English.

When one doesn't know a freaked out speedster when she sees one, it's time to quit.

Olde English

SQUARE: There was one in every village. Now, of course, there are countless numbers of them.

HIP: That part of the body just beneath which the skirt now ends.

POT: The kitchen utensil in which ex-President Hoover claimed there would be no chickens in every one of.

UP TIGHT: You pulled on your stockings this way, but still they sagged at the knees.

TRIP: A mild recreational activity on which you cajoled your husband to accompany you.

CAMP: Where you checked the children, if he unexpectedly agreed.

BAD TRIP: If he agreed, but under pressure.

HANG UP: Favorite admonition of mother to daughter. Thus: "Please hang up, Leslie." "I can't. We're not finished doing the homework yet." In educational circles, this has become known as the telephone hang-up.

JUNK: What everybody else accumulates on his cluttered journey through life.

GAY: The patterns of any chintzy fabric — when "chintzy" defined a particular kind of goods, not a particular kind of guy.

SPLIT: It used to happen only to seams and to bananas — when bananas were simply fruit, not the center of a subgroup cult.

COOK IT: What you did to tea in summer, when tea was a beverage that ladies and gentlemen drank in the garden.

KICK: Method of delinquent child for drawing attention to himself. Plural, KICKS: Method of extremely delinquent child.

BALL: An evening party, usually given for the benefit of an important charity.

CHICKS: Hens made them, not hipsters.

BAG: A Hermes or, lacking that, a Gucci.

HOOKED: It should only happen to a bra.

ROCK: You sat on it and meditated.

ROLL: You buttered it and ate it.

OUT OF IT: Where these language-grabbing kids of ours will relegate this glossary of terms.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Problem: Overplucked Brow

A Lovely mother writes: My 14-year-old daughter has tweezed her eyebrows into a thin line. It's the newest thing, she says. Be that as it may, the effect my child has achieved is a straggly, uneven line, chopped off at both ends. I suppose there's nothing to do but agonize through the growing-out period.

The Answer: You can help appearances by keeping the brows groomed as they grow out. This is managed with an application of stick hair wax and a good stiff brushing.

Once the brows have returned to their normal shape and size, tweezers should be used only to pluck strands that fall below the fixed outline, or above the nose. Tampering overmuch with the brow leads in many cases to a bald look. The strands simply never grow back.

Currently there is a make-up trend toward a less prominent browline. This has its inspiration in the Thirties Look, when the movie stars wore their brows high and thinly arched. The exaggeration will not be carried that far, however.

The idea is to soften and lighted the brow. The effect is brought about by applications of light brown brush-on brow. Sometimes just by whisking on face powder and brushing it off.

No matter what the fashion, over-tweezing the brows is never advisable.

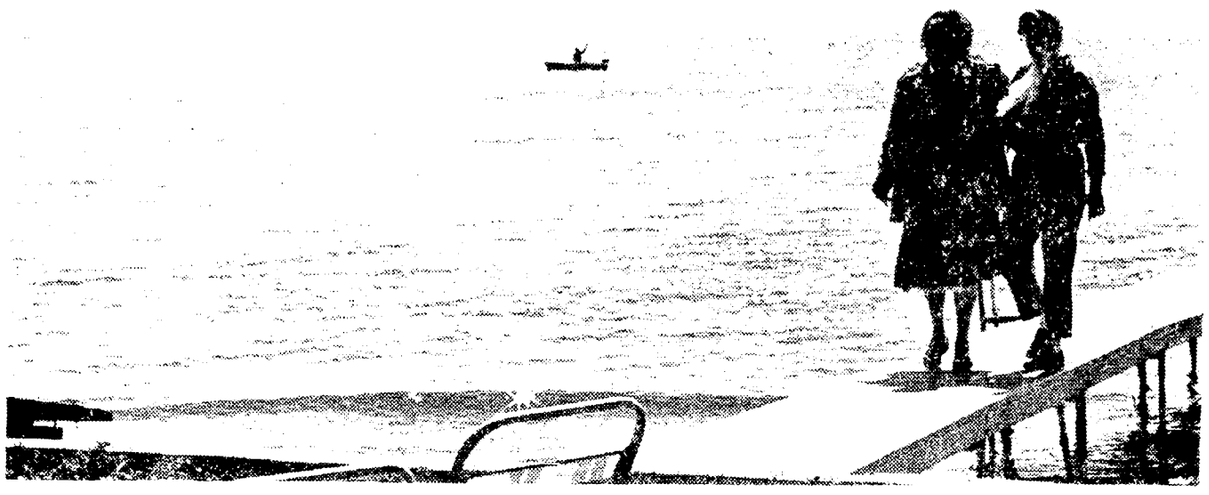
Mentally Ill Find Places in the Sun

The feeling of rejection that is a very real part of the life of the mentally ill was dimished for 20 patients at the Outagamie County Hospital Saturday when the Appleton Jaycettes opened their day to the warm sun and lake breezes. The day was planned for closed ward patients. Among them were seven who have absolutely no visitors. Others see their families only once every several months. One has been hospitalized for 26 years, another for 17. None of them have ever been singled out for an activity that resembles a home, or, apart from the hospital, been talked to in the way women talk with one another.

But Saturday, with the sun lighting the waters of Lake Winnebago and casting short shadows on the grass at the cottage of Mrs. Harry Long at Rainbow Beach, the talk was warm and the smiles, slow to come perhaps, were sincere and important.

The Jaycettes, implementing their program of trying to help the mentally ill, picked up the patients at 10:30 a.m., treated them to games and talk or just the right to look on, and returned them to the hospital at 4:30 p.m.

The venture was part of the concept that contact with the outside world is important in the recovery of the mentally ill. Mrs. Harold Wolfgram, mental health chairman for the Jaycettes, had charge of plans. Chef for the day was the Jaycee mental health chairman, Maurey Cox.



The Sun Sparkled on the Water of Lake Winnebago Saturday as 20 women who are closed ward patients at Outagamie County Hospital had a day in the outdoors. Above, one of the women had company as she strolled down the dock at the Rainbow Beach cottage. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Protected by a Head Scarf and Sweater, but enjoying the warmth of the sun and the view of the lake, one of the patients was content to sit alone and think. At left, free to do whatever the mood inspired, the patients played games or sunned, or simply let the conversation take its own natural bent.

Alderman Wants To Sue Railroad

A northwest side alderman wants the City of Appleton to take a railroad to court for reportedly blocking street crossings and causing traffic congestion

Ald. John Steidl (18th) made the request in a resolution submitted to the city clerk's office for referral to the city council Wednesday night.

Steidl recalled that on April 15 a group of residents filed a petition with the city objecting to trains of the Chicago and North Western Railway Co blocking crossings.

He asked the council to authorize the city attorney to "to take the necessary steps to alleviate the congestion".

Cab Wrecked in Crash Of Semi-Trailer Trucks

A 23-year-old Monroe, Wis., truck driver stepped from his demolished cab with nothing more than a sore finger after striking the rear of another truck then veering into a median ditch about 5 a.m. today on U.S. 41, just north of State 125, west of Appleton.

Outagamie County police said that Lester J. Johnson Jr was northbound on 41 with his 1961 semi-trailer truck when he struck the left rear of another semi-trailer, driven by Roger E. Gersmehl, 26, 2611 N Lynndale Drive, Appleton.

The cab was ripped from the chassis on Johnson's truck, and it came to rest alongside the trailer in the ditch. Johson told police that he stayed with the cab until it came to rest.

Diesel Fuel

Parts from the demolished cab were strewn for more than 100 feet along the highway and the area was soaked with diesel fuel which streamed from the ruptured fuel tanks. The trailer, owned by Frank Kubley Transfer, Inc., Monroe, was loaded with 20 tons of cheese The trailer was not believed to be extensively damaged Johnson said he was on route to Green Bay.

Police said Gersmehl, who was pulling a load of frozen bread, was driving a unit owned by Valley Leasing Co of Appleton He had just pulled onto 41 from State 125, and was shifting gears when his truck was struck in the rear. There was about $400 damage to the left rear of his trailer and a hunk of iron damaged a rear tire Gersmehl was not injured.

Johnson told police he did not realize the semi ahead of him was moving so slowly Police said the highway was slippery from an early morning drizzle

Police estimated damage at more than $13,000.

Oshkosh Now Full Member Of Area COG

Newest City Omitted From Assessment For Water Survey

Oshkosh formally accepted membership in the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) Wednesday

Oshkosh will not actually become involved until Jan. 1, due to what Common Council President William Manske called "budgetary necessities."

However, the city was included in the council's 1968 budget with an assessment of $12,463, but was not included in proposed assessments for a federal "701" comprehensive plan to survey water, storm water, disposal and sewerage needs for the area.

Ask Delay

Manske, however, and City Manager Angus Crawford, told COG members that they would ask the common council to consider joining the survey. They said a resolution to study a secondary sewerage treatment plant was to be introduced before the council tonight but that they would ask for a delay to allow for consideration of joining the council's comprehensive plan

In other business, Mayor Kenneth Holmes, Menasha, asked for more information to be supplied on the regional housing code. A regional housing code was established by the Council of Governments earlier this year and has received approval from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). It has been enacted in two Fox Valley municipalities so far, Grand Chute and Kaukauna

Housing Code

A minimum standard housing code is now required before a municipality can receive federal urban renewal funds or housing funds for the elderly. Housing codes to meet these standards are currently being considered in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha.

In asking for more information, Mayor Holmes said, "we could get off on the wrong foot if

Review Stand Must for Dedication

It looks like there will have to be a reviewing stand for the College Avenue dedication parade Saturday, Sept. 30 after all.

City officials had hoped to eliminate such an item because of the work and expense involved.

But there are going to be quite a few honorary visitors to Appleton that day and with this the situation — a reviewing stand is a must.

Ald. Norman Beyer (20th), chairman of the city's commerce-development committee which is in charge of arrangements along with the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce, conferred with Mayor George Buckley today

Beyer said it looked as if the reviewing stand was now a must" Buckley agreed

COG Adopts Budget Of $56,909 for '68

Oshkosh Formally Joins 12 northern neighbor communities in the Fox Valley Council of Governments as Bill Manske, left, Oshkosh City Council president, hands articles of agreement signed by Oshkosh officials to Laurel Heaney, Town of Neenah, FVCOG president, during the monthly meeting of the planning agency Wednesday afternoon. Figure Is $16,000 Less Than Asked by Franchette; Excludes Proposed Survey

BY FRANK CHURCH
Post Crescent Staff Writer

A budget of $56,909 was approved for the coming year by the Fox Valley Council of Governments Wednesday afternoon Total assessments, however, probably will soar to about $131,909 if the council approves a proposed federal 701 Comprehensive Planning Program

The regular budget is an increase from the $48,545 levied for the current year, although it is substantially under Executive Director Eugene Franchett's request for $73,000. The cuts were made by the council's Finance Committee last Thursday, and the $56,909 figure was approved unanimously

Slight Increase

Assessments against each community, in most cases, saw a slight decrease due to the $12,463 which will be levied against Oshkosh when it officially becomes a member on Jan 1 Menasha, Neenah, Grand Chute and Buchanan have slightly higher assessments this year because of increases in their evaluations.

If the council approves the 701 Comprehensive Plan to survey water, storm water garbage disposal and sewerage needs for the area up to the year 200, assessments would increase considerably. Appleton's assessment, for example, would go from $15,821 in the regular budget to $42,521 total assessment if the plan is approved

As of Wednesday, no provision was made for an assessment against Oshkosh for the 701 Comprehensive Plan Their total assessment in the regular budget was $12,463, which is all they will contribute unless they decide to join the council's plan Their decision is expected soon

The regular budget saw salaries for staff members increased $2,899, but Franchett's request for a fourth planner to help with increased responsibilities expected when Oshkosh becomes a member of the council was denied The salary would have been $10,000.

1968 Assessments

The assessments in the 1968 budget, along with tentative assessments following approval of the 701 Comprehensive Plan, are: Appleton $15,821, total, $42,521, Kaukauna, $3,529, total, $9,454, Menasha, $4,780, total, $12,805; Neenah, $7,284, total, $19,584, Oshkosh, $12,463; Combined Locks, $911, total, $2,411; Kimberly $2,106, total, $5,706.

Little Chute, $911, total, $2,486, Buchanan, $512, total, $1,337, Grand Chute, $2,846, total, $7,646; Harrison, $512, total, $1,412, Town of Menasha, $4,096, total, $10,996, Town of Neenah, $1,138, total, $3,088

COG Tables Funds For Facilities Study Pending Unit Approval

Holmes, Kampo Ask for Delay In Vote on $75,000 Request

A $75,000 appropriation in a resolution to undertake a study of water, sewerage, storm water and disposal needs of the Fox Valley area was tabled by the Fox Valley Council of Governments Wednesday afternoon.

The appropriation from member communities of the council would have gone along with an anticipated federal grant of $150,000 for the study The study would take between 9-12 months to complete

The appropriation was brought up for a vote on a recommendation for passage by the council's Technical Advisory Committee when Menasha Mayor Kenneth Holmes suggested the proposal be brought before member city councils for their approval before a vote is taken.

"I feel we ought to talk this over with our city councils before we take any action," Holmes said.

Kampo Agrees

Chairman Roland Kampo, Town of Menasha, supported the suggestion of Holmes saying, "We can take this up at our next meeting. Three weeks or a month won't make any difference."

Eugene Franchett, executive director of the council, said it would not make any difference if a decision is delayed until the next meeting but added, "I don't see what it will gain "

The council then voted unanimously to table the motion for approval until the next meeting.

The survey, called a 701 Comprehensive Planning Program, would study the long and short range water, storm water, sewerage and disposal needs of the urbanized areas of the Fox Valley Metropolitan Area

Two Firms

About $175,000 of the $225,000 would go to engineering consultants conducting the survey. Franchett said about 14 consulting firms were originally contacted and the staff has now narrowed that down to a choice between two Approval was given Wednesday for final selection of a consultant to undertake the survey

Franchett said the $225,000 estimate was arrived at through figures given by the two consultants The figure is subject to minor modifications when the final consultant is chosen.

The remaining $50,000 would

Hospital Budget Could Increase

Speener Says Deficit May Require More Outagamie Funds

Although detailed figures were not revealed at a joint meeting Wednesday night, indications were that the 1968 budget for the Outagamie County Hospital and Golden Age Home could increase 10 per cent over 1967

Eugene Speener, hospital superintendent, will present the proposed 1968 budget to the county board's finance committee early next week The board's budget hearing is in November.

Speener, at a joint meeting with the hospital's board of trustees and the county board's health, education, and institutions committee, said he has his budget draft completed At the request of trustees, however, he did not reveal specific figures

Institution committee members reportedly have not seen the budget figures

Increased Services

Speener said the additional proposed cost to the county "is not great" in light of increased services being offered through the institutions The 1967 hospital and Golden Age Home budget expenditures totaled $848,668 The Golden Age Home accounted for $372,037 of that amount and the remaining $476,631 was for county hospital expenditures

However, Speener said Wednesday night that he was faced with a 1967 deficit of about $35,000, which he indicated he

5-Year Appleton Plan Gets Informal, Extensive Surgery

Unofficial Council Action Delays Oneida Bridge, Cuts School Costs

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Much was said but nothing officially accomplished Wednesday night as a cautious city council made its third informal review of Appleton's proposed multi-million dollar capital improvement covering 1967-72

With the next citywide election slated for the spring of 1968, it would appear aldermen and other city officials are somewhat reluctant to wave price tags for municipal projects in front of the electorate

As a result a proposed plan underwent extensive surgery

However, Ald Alvin E Tews (5th), chairman of the council's finance committee appeared optimistic today in analyzing last night's meeting.

Matter of Timing

"I think there is agreement all the projects listed in the five-year plan are needed but the matter of timing appears to be another matter " Tews declared

He predicted the council would formally adopt a five-year plan, setting priorities which would be reviewed annually within the next two to three weeks.

Tews envisioned that "several million dollars" would be lopped off the five-year total, this coming about by deferring some of the more expensive projects further into the 1970's.

Serious questions were raised by several aldermen on projected board of education school construction and operational costs between now and 1972 but probing discussion was set aside because school board representatives were not in attendance

Cut Schools

However, the council indicated it wanted to talk with public school officials with an eye toward cutting about $1.5 million from new school construction and renovation costs, along with forcing operational economies.

A request by the library board to build a new public library was sidetracked until the aldermen hear from board officials

Construction of a high-level bridge was eliminated from the five-year plan but the council indicated it would be docketed for as close as possible after 1972 However, it has been estimated it will take two years to build a bridge

Aldermen agreed a bridge study, for which money is in this year's budget, should be undertaken, but made no mention of reconsidering previous action of turning down a proposal to buy the First Congregational Church property Planners say it is needed for future street plans and bridge right-of-way

Discuss Mall

Ironically, while millions were involved in future project estimates — aldermen spent the first hour of the meeting dis-

Professional Organization of Clergy

Plans Set for New Priests Association

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — A representative group of northeast Wisconsin Catholic priests has issued an invitation to 586 priests in the Green Bay Diocese to form a priests association for the diocese.

The invitations to the first general meeting of the proposed group that is scheduled Oct 2 at the Brown County Arena were signed by nine area priests who have completed preliminary plans for the association that would be a professional organization of clergy.

Foundations of the proposed organization were laid in the formation of local and county priest groups that have been developed in nine northeast Wisconsin areas since the end of Vatican Council II The small groups that sent representatives to explore the possibilities of a diocesan-wide organization have functioned to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas relative to their positions and to coordinated activities within the communities.

Not a Union

In the invitation, the undersigned prieses point out that the new organization "wants no part of anything like a union or any device for the use of crude pressure tactics."

Founders of the priests association explain in the constitution of the organization that its role will be "to cooperate with the bishop in his pastoral role It is seen as an organization that can facilitate communication among priests on the problems and projects of priestly education, research and development, personnel and social action and provide a channel by which the bishop can communicate with the priests of the diocese

Outlines for the association show an organization that is planned along the lines of a similar group in the Chicago Archdiocese and in a number of midwestern dioceses Formation of such groups was called for in the second Vatican Council documents in a specific order

Tentative Agenda

A tentative agenda for the Oct 2 meeting indicates that the group will consider forming a formal priests association of the Green Bay Diocese, select a method of electing officers so that a 19-member coordinating board may be formed, approve a constitution and pledge loyalty to the Catholic Church, the Pope and Bishop Stanislas Bona

Representatives of local groups that made preliminary plans and sent the invitations to the general meeting are:

Further State Aid Needed in TB Fight

Doctor Tells Committee Lack Of Funds Could Halt Progress

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Increased state aids are necessary to complete the chain of progress and totally eradicate tuberculosis, Dr. John Russo of the Riverview Sanitarium in Kaukauna told the Legislature's Joint Committee on Finance Wednesday.

Supporting a bill which would double state aid payments to such sanitariums, Dr. Russo reviewed progress made during the past 70 years in combatting the disease.

"Now we find we can prevent it but we still cannot complete the chain until we eradicate," he said. "Cost is the handicap," he explained, describing efforts at wiping it out as at a stalemate.

Per Patient Increase

Dr. Russo backed a bill which would increase state aid payments in county tuberculosis sanitariums from $21 a week per patient to $42 a week for each patient.

The suggestion is a scaled down version of a bill originally suggested by Sen. Norman Sussman, D-Milwaukee, calling for state aids totalling 60 per cent of the per capita costs of such patients.

George Rice, representing Milwaukee County, told the finance unit that the $3 million cost of the original measure made it virtually doomed in the Legislature, and so the reduced suggestion was submitted.

Cost of the $42 a patient plan would be about $1.1 million a biennium, he said.

Testing Program

Russo described to the finance committee an Outagamie County program since adopted throughout the state for skin tests for likely tuberculosis-prone children throughout local school systems.

Annual surveys have found that between three and five per cent of the students show a positive reaction to the tests, he said, and the County then administers drugs to them in a program of "future prevention" of the disease.

Results of this and other efforts have caused a sharp reduction in the number of patients confined to county hospitals, he said but county boards often do not recognize causes of such gains when they call for support cutbacks to match the declining patient loads.

Russo pointed out that state aid for such patients was started in 1947 at a level of $7 a week per patient, and reached $21 a week in 1957. Since then no aid increases have been granted by the Legislature, be reminded the unit.

During the same period the state closed down its state-run tuberculosis sanitariums and increased the loads on county programs.

And in the span from 1957 to date the per capita patient cost of care has jumped from $80 a week to $164 a week, he said.

But boards looking for economies see only that the sanitariums in the state have offered reduced amounts of care during the same period, shrinking from 60,000 patient weeks in 1957 to about 24,000 patient weeks this year. The reduction reflects the gains in combatting the illness, but more money and efforts — but less — are needed to wipe it out, he said.

Gordon K. Jarstadl, Green Bay, president of the Wisconsin Sanitarium Trustees Association, also appeared in favor of the measure.

Closing the hearing on the bill, which drew no opposition, Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Rosendale, co-chairman of the finance committee said, "This is just a matter of finding the dollars. The case which you present is certainly a good one."

Lester J. Johnson Jr., 23, route 2, Monroe, hung tight to the steering wheel and came through with only a sore finger as the cab was ripped from the chassis of his semi-trailer truck when it struck the rear of another semi and careened into the median ditch about 5 a.m. today on U.S. 41, just north of State 125. Appleton Gets Rain About Noon

Showers began to hit Appleton today with a flash of lightning about 1 p.m.

However, rain came to southwestern Wisconsin early today in such a massive amount that flash flood warnings were issued.

Heavy overcast skies indicate that the heavy showers promised tonight become a fact.

A whopping 7.05 inches of rain fell in the Dubuque area of northeastern Iowa and southwestern Wisconsin in a 5 hour span that ended at 6 a.m. today. The amount smashed all previous records for any 24 hour period at Dubuque.

By mid-morning today rain covered southern Wisconsin as far east as Waukesha County. The region has been dried out by lack of rain in recent weeks.

Eau Claire recorded 2.51 inches of rain in the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today. Lone Rock had 1.01 inch, La Crosse .75, Superior .74, Park Falls .20, Madison .13 and Wausau .06.

Temperatures were above normal Wednesday, reaching 80 at Burlington, 79 at Beloit, 78 at Appleton and 71 at Park Falls, Superior had a high of only 62.

At night, lows ranged from 66 at Appleton to 56 at Superior. The minimum readings averaged 15 degrees above normal.

Housing Code Poses Problems in Menasha

MENASHA — Foreseeing difficulty in winning approval for a minimum standards housing ordinance — a key step in providing low cost housing for the elderly under federal requirements — Mayor Kenneth Holmes has put off action on the ordinance while he seeks further information on its contents.

Holmes told fellow local government heads at a Fox Valley Council of Governments meeting Wednesday he had asked City Atty. Richard Steffens to hold off until next month on the proposed ordinance. Steffens had been scheduled originally to report on his legal examination of the proposal during common council sessions next week.

The mayor asked Eugene Franchette, FVCOG executive director, how further information might be obtained.

Franchette told the mayor that a panel discussion tonight in Green Bay will deal with the model ordinance, as well as its relationship to "workable programs" required by federal officials before financial subsidies are approved for housing for the elderly and other federally assisted local projects.

Franchette will be on the panel to discuss the housing ordinance, which is in various stages of consideration throughout the 13-member FVCOG region at the urging of the planning gaency.

Green Bay and Madison officials will join Franchette on the panel.

The discussion is the main item on the program of the Association of Wisconsin Planners northeastern region conference.

"I'm afraid that I'm going to run into difficulty with our council in passing this," Holmes told the group in his request for information.

Tough Code

Mayor Gilbert Anderson of Kaukauna, a city which already has adopted the ordinance, described it as "tough," and added it is necessary to use discretion in enforcing it. The code sets standards for living conditions and applies to existing buildings.

Menasha Town Chairman Roland Kampo said he believed the ordinance was "not enforceable," and added he would be unable to recommend it to his town board unless it could be enforced.

The FVCOG group expressed interest in hearing Madison city officials comment on how the ordinance has worked for them.

Study Proposes Remodeling for Menasha School

NEENAH - MENASHA — The possibility of remodeling St. Mary High School at an estimated cost of $800,000 was proposed to the Catholic High School study committee Wednesday.

As the group headed by James Asmuth moved toward the end of its second phase of study with projections for building a new high school for the five parishes in Neenah and Menasha, facts were presented on various alternatives.

"The major and controlling expense in any school is teacher salaries and fringe benefits," Martin Phalen, chairman of the finance committee, said as he itemized budget considerations.

After reviewing budgets from other Catholic High Schools in the area, the committee found that teacher salaries and fringe benefits account for more than two-thirds of each budget.

Not End of Rope, Judge Counsels

Appleton Youth Sent To State Boys School

"This isn't the end of the rope; you can still straighten yourself out," Judge Raymond P. Dour told a 16-year-old Appleton youth after ordering him sent to the State School for Boys at Wales Wednesday afternoon.

The Outagamie County Juvenile Court judge ordered the northside boy placed under custody of the State Department of Health and Social Services until he is 21.

The boy and a 17-year-old company were involved in five burglaries in the Appleton area during July and August. The 17-year-old has not yet appeared in Juvenile Court.

Detective George W. Weaver of the Appleton Police Department told the Court, Wednesday, that the boys burglarized Harley Davidson Sales, 2125 N. Richmond St., Appleton, on Aug. 18; Jahnke Wrecking Co., 1047 Valley Road, Menasha, July 28; Timmers Printing Co., 1211 N. Perkins St., Appleton, on July 31 and again on Aug. 16; and the Quaker Dairy Store, 1400 E. Main St., Little Chute, on Aug. 2.

Payment on Bike

About $350 was taken from Harley Davidson Sales. The Court was told that the 16-year-old youth used some of his half of the take to make a payment on a motorbike he had purchased earlier from the Appleton firm. Police impounded the cycle.

About $8 in change in addition to cigarettes and cans of spray paint were taken in the Jahnke burglary. The change was taken from cigarette, candy and soft drink vending machines that were pried open.

About $75 was taken during the first burglary at Timmers Printing Co. Auto titles and insurance papers, in the metal box with the money, were thrown into the river in Lutz Park and were recovered, police said.

The two boys burned about 20 checks taken during the second Timmers burglary. The $503.21 worth of checks were stamped for deposit, and were worthless to the boys, police said.

Unsuccessful

Nothing was taken from the Little Chute store. The boys reportedly tried unsuccessfully to pry open a cash register.

The 16-year-old boy, who was not represented by counsel Wednesday, told the court that he and the 17-year-old split proceeds from their burglaries. Police said none of the money was recovered.

A high school senior, he has been under the supervision of the Outagamie County Welfare Department since appearing in juvenile court in December, 1965 for 15 burglaries. He was still making restitution for those burglaries, the court was told.

Brillion Man Named to State Post

BRILLION — Harry Drier, 32, coordinator of the Brillion Cooperative Vocational School, has accepted a position as state supervisor for vocational guidance with the Department of Public Instruction, Madison.

Drier, who helped develop and design the state's first cooperative vocational training program, will remain at his present post full-time until Nov. 1 and part-time for the balance of the semester. A replacement is being sought.

Drier, a native of Racine, came to Brillion in 1961 after his graduation from Drake University. He was physical education instructor and coached several sports until being named high school guidance counselor here three years ago.

Named Coordinator

He was named coordinator of the Brillion Cooperative Vocational School when classes in foundry operation and auto mechanics began there last year for students from Stockbridge, Reedsville and Brillion. This year Little Chute High School students also participate in the school.

Drier has taken guidance and counseling courses at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, and at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, and expects to receive a master's degree from WSU-O in January.

Drier is also director of the Vocational Technical and Adult Education School-District 12 here. He is married to the former Lynne Nelson of Appleton. They and their two children expect to move to Madison in early 1968.

Union Urges Support for United Giving

State AFL-CIO Official Addresses Group at Appleton

Wilbert Walter, community relations staff member with the state AFL-CIO, addressed the central body of the American Federation of Labor, Wednesday night, and urged its endorsement of the United Givers campaign and the one-hour fair-share formula for giving.

At the meeting at the Labor Temple, 527 N. Appleton St., Walter quoted from a letter by George Meany, president of the executive council of the national AFL-CIO in which Meany said that this year marks the 25th anniversary of the signing of a joint agreement on campaign cooperation by organized labor and United Community Funds and Council of America.

Meany called the election of AFL-CIO vice president Joseph A. Beirne as president of the UCFCA board as a symbol of joint commitment to the united way of giving.

Walter also pointed out the 10 basic principles under which labor should identify itself with the broadest concerns of the community for the well-being of its citizens.

National Policy

Taken from the nationally adopted "Foundations of the AFL-CIO Community Services Program," the principles state that "The union member is first and foremost a citizen of his community," and "He must cooperate with his fellow-citizens in making his community a good place in which to live, to work, to raise children. He must be concerned about the availability of adequate health, welfare and recreational services for the whole community."

The brochure also outlines that "Unions have elected to finance, support and participate in existing community social service agencies rather than to establish direct social services of their own. To the degree that the personnel and facilities of social agencies serve all the people, they serve the men and women of organized labor, and unions should be encouraged to continue this policy."

A. D. Malin, United Givers executive director, talked on the Appleton United Givers campaign and the need for raising the fair-share standard giving from one-half hour to one hour's pay per month. He pointed out that five new agencies are included in the red feather campaign this year, raising the total to 19.

Services Doubled

He also said that while the goal for these private social services has doubled in the past seven years, the suggested rate of giving has remained the same.

Labor on a national scale has endorsed the one-hour's pay-per-month plan for all communities raising more than $200,000 in a united campaign.

Malin assured the group he has talked to news media, and labor locals which do an outstanding job will be publicly recognized along with other segments in business and industry which support the campaign according to suggested fair-share standards.

After the talks the labor group gave a good reception to the first showing of a new locally produced slide film, compiled and narrated by professional volunteers. The film portrays the work of the 19 Red Feather agencies.

First Diocesan Education Unit Holds Meeting

Group to Oversee Catholic Instruction For All Students

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — A group of 12 Catholic priests and laymen met Wednesday night to form the first Green Bay Diocese Board of Education

The Rev Richard Kleiber, superintendent of the diocesan parochial schools said the organizational meeting was called to explain the purpose and function of the body that will oversee Catholic education for students of all ages The group will meet monthly.

The first meeting was exploratory according to Father Kleiber No officers were elected or action taken as the group decided to wait until it determines its role.

No Rush

"We've waited for this for a long time," the superintendent said, "and there is no reason to rush into things yet

Father Kleiber said the body that has representatives of urban, small town and rural parishes and one parish without a school will serve as a board of education rather than a school board, taking responsibility for all aspects of Catholic education from parochial schools and CCD instruction to other forms of religious education in the diocese

Parochial schools in the diocese will be responsible to the board as an agent of Bishop Stanislas Bona for its actions

Clerical Members

Clerical members appointed to the board by Bishop Bona are the Rev Alvin Auer, St Agnes, Green Bay the Rev Sylvester Polusky, St Aloysius Kaukauna the Rev Eugene F Hotchkiss St Joseph, Marinette, the Rev Michael Jacowski Holy Rosary Kewaunee,

The Rev Thaddeus Koszarek St Rose, Clintonville, the Rev Alfred Lison Nativity of Our Lord, Green Bay, and the Rev Leo Schmitt St Michael Whitelaw

Laymen appointed to the board by the bishop on the recommendation of area priests are Mrs Francis Broderick Appleton wife of the dean at Lawrence University, Robert Bryan Menasha a managerial employee of Kimberly-Clark Corp, Raymond Clouthier West De Pere associate professor of education at St Norbert College Charles J Fiss an Oshkosh undertaker, and Victor Miller a St Nazianz attorney

cussing a proposed expenditure of $50,000 which would convert Soldiers Square into a pedestrian mall as per the comprehensive plan

The council reached informal accord that because some merchants in the block were objecting to a walk and wanted to retain about 23 parking meters adjoining the new 450-car parking ramp, the mall project should be postponed until 1969

The street-sanitation committee would like to get the job done in 1968, thus wrapping up the phase of the central business district plan relating to the overall Soldiers Square redevelopment

Each alderman was presented with a memorandum from the Appleton Taxpayers Association, prepared at its request by the Public Expenditure Survey of Wisconsin

Taxpayers Object

It called for deferring many projects and cutting down on public school system and overall city operational expenses to hold down anticipated tax rate increases

Based on the schools' 1968 budget request and another $1 9 million in new schools and equipment, along with regular city operational expense and some needed capital outlays, the Appleton tax rate is likely to increase about $4 in the coming year

Aldermen did not discuss the Taxpayer's Association report but indicated it would be a valuable aid" at budget review time

And the council failed to bring up the matter of officially adopting the city's comprehensive plan (CP) prepared by a St Louis consulting firm at a cost of over $100,000

The plan was financed mostly by a federal grant and unless the council formally adopts it, the city stands to be ineligible for state and federal assistance in implementing the long-range program carrying through 1985

In previous action, the council adopted the central business district phase of the CP but voted to use the overall plan as a guideline only — thus denying it official recognition as required by terms of the federal 701 planning program grant

—Asked the public information and education committee to provide information on the soil survey to interested parties

Hospital Budget Could Increase

would try to bring before the county board

The deficit, Speener said occurred as a combined result of increased costs of drugs and medical costs for patients needing outside-the-hospital attention Other factors were higher than anticipated maintenance and operational costs and increased food prices, the committees were told

Those, Speener said, also were among the primary factors in the proposed 1968 budget hike

Speener, who has been hospital superintendent since April 1 and thus has had no control over formulating the 1967 budget, told the committee he "scraped the bottom of the barrel" this year and probably will next year

In briefing the joint committee on institutional affairs, Speener said the county hospital now has 241 patients, three under the rated capacity and the 86 Golden Age Home population is five under capacity

Cyclist Fined $100 for High Speed Chase

A 19-year-old motorcyclist whose motorcycle struck an Appleton squad car following a high-speed chase early the morning of June 27 was fined $100 and costs and his drivers license was suspended for 60 days after he changed his plea to guilty Wednesday on a charge of attempting to elude police

Four other traffic charges brought against Francis H Vandenberg 526 Camellia Lane, Appleton were dismissed on motions by Dist Atty Nick F Schaefer

The charges included two counts of failing to stop for stop signs imprudent driving, and reckless driving

Vandenberg was fleeing from Kimberly police when his 1966 motorcycle struck the Appleton squad car which was used in a roadblock at E Newberry and S Weimer streets about 1 50 a m June 27 The youth was injured when he was thrown from the cycle

The youth who had pleaded innocent to all five counts appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 The eluding and reckless driving charges were brought by Kimberly police, and Appleton police brought the other charges

Knowles Calls for 'Get Tough' Policy In Traffic Courts

GREEN BAY (AP) — Gov Warren P Knowles rapped Wisconsin courts and prosecutors Wednesday for softness in dealing with traffic law violators

After praising the work of police Knowles told a meeting of county police and deputy sheriffs that "yet, at the same time, we have seen many instances in which our courts and prosecutors have softened the effectiveness of your efforts "

A lack of uniformity in court decisions has been noticeable," Knowles said "Unwarranted reductions in penalties and delays in prosecution have been far too commonplace "

The governor called for a statewide get tough" policy by judges

be used by the staff for studies in land use, population economy, open space capital improvements and programing and planning

Study Areas

In a detailed pamphlet outlining the design to be used in the survey, emphasis is given to four areas o fstudy

— Water supply, purification, treatment, storage and transmission facilities, in which surveys will be taken of existing water resources, present water use and a tentative definition of a facilities plan for determining future water needs and methods of meeting them up to the year 2000.

— Sanitary sewerage collection, treatment, disposal and management, to determine present capacities and future needs and plans for implementing programs to meet them

— Solid waste collection and disposal, with a similar survey collection, disposal and management

Long Range Scope

All four plans would be long range in scope, relate to community goals, take into account service requirements economies of scale and alternative uses of resources, be directed toward the development of a unified areawide facilities systems, adequate for future growth, and be flexible in order to meet the needs of each community

Assessments for the survey show Appleton would pay $26 700 with Neenah next in line with a $12 300 assessment The lowest assessment would be levied against Buchanan which would pay $825

Other assessments for the study if approved, would be Kaukauna, $5 925 Menasha, $8 025, Combined Locks $1,500, Kimberly, $3,600 Little Chute, $1,575 Grand Chute $4,800, Harrison, $900 Town of Menasha, $5,900, and Town of Neenah, $1,950

Raymond Burr As Crippled Det. Ironside

BY TV SCOUT

7:30-8:30 (Channels 4-5) — Raymond Burr returns to weekly television as a crippled detective named Ironside, and it's his tough, intelligent performance coupled with good dialogue which promises good things for viewers. The television movie which was the pilot for this series, had a wide viewing audience, so you may be familiar with the fact that Burr plays a former chief of detectives who has been confined to a wheelchair after a shooting. He is now a consultant for the Los Angeles Police Department and is assisted by two young detectives, Don Galloway and Barbara Anderson, and his edgy Negro helper, well played by Don Mitchel. (C-Premiere)

8-10 (Channels 2-7-12) — There's a two-night double bill, but it's the same picture, kicking off the new season for The Thursday Night Movies (it will be concluded tomorrow). It's a classic escape film, "The Great Escape," made in Europe with a strong cast of American (Steve McQueen, Jim Garner, Jim Coburn, Charles Bronson) and English actors (James Donald, Donald Pleasance and Richard Attenborough). The setting of this 1963 release is a German prison camp in World War II, and it's filled with fingernail-chewing suspense. (C)

9-10 (Channels 4-5) — The Dean Martin Show returns with a lively offering and a star-studded guest lineup: Jimmy Stewart, Orson Welles and leggy Juliet Prowse. There are several highlights: Wells doing an old-fashioned radio sketch with Dino as the overworked sound effects man; Jimmy Stewart playing the piano while he and Dino sing "Ragtime Cowboy Joe"; Dino and Orson singing "Brush Up Your Shakespeare"; Juliet trying to get Dean to the bar (the exercise bar, that is) to learn to "Plie"; and the three men, with long hair, showing off what goes on inside a male beauty parlor. (C-Premiere)

6:30-7:30 (Channel 5) — Daniel Boone returns for the fourth season with an amusing, action-packed adventure which has a big plus: it lets Ed Ames sing. As Mingo, he sings a ballad about river pirates, and that's what this episode is about. Boone (Fess Parker) and Mingo lose their catch of fur to a band of pirates headed by Victor Buono. (C-Premiere)

8:30-9 (Channels 4-5) — Dragnet 1968 returns for its first full season with only the year changed in the title. Everything else is the same, which is a compliment in this case, as Jack Webb and Harry Morgan take on the case of a punk kid who may be out to get revenge on a girl who has switched to another fellow. (C-Premiere)

9-9:30 (Channels 11-9) — Good Company is greatly improved over its premiere by the presence of organ-voiced Sen. Dirksen, visited on his Virginia farm by F. Lee Bailey. (C)

7-7:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — In case you didn't see the opening of The Flying Nun, don't worry, some of what went on is recapped here. Alejandro Rey is in the spotlight, as the gambler turned to daily attendance at Mass by his "visions." (C)

Actress Ingrid Bergman and her daughter, Pia Lindstrom, are a happy pair in the former's dressing room in Los Angeles after the opening night performance of Eugene O'Neill's play "More Stately Mansions." Miss Bergman stars in the drama, her first performance on the American stage in 21 years. She won two Academy Awards in movies ("Gaslight," 1944 and "Anastasia," 1956) and a television Emmy ("Turn of the Screw," 1960). (AP Wirephoto)

Radio Official Okays Two-Way Talk Shows

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two-way talk shows on radio serve a useful purpose in a democracy by bringing the most radical views out into the open, a federal official says.

Lee Loevinger, a member of the Federal Communications Commission, said Tuesday he opposes efforts to censor the programs on which citizens telephone their views for broadcast.

Speaking to 300 broadcast executives, Loevinger said no elite can dictate the kind of programming that the public demands and can have.

Thunderous Applause Greets Ingrid Bergman

Returns to American Stage After 21 Years In O'Neill Drama, 'More Stately Mansions'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A star-filled audience cheered Ingrid Bergman's return to the American stage this week and gave lesser plaudits to her vehicle, Eugene O'Neill's "More Stately Mansions."

The Swedish actress drew immense applause upon her entrance in the tragedy and received a roar of approval at her curtain calls. Among the first-nighters were Rosalind Russell, Gregory Peck, Alfred Hitchcock, Donna Reed, Art Linkletter, Eva Marie Saint, Jim Nabors, Jack Oakie.

"More Stately Mansions" is the last O'Neill play to premiere in America. Begun in 1935 as part of an 11-play cycle it has been produced only in Sweden, where O'Neill has long been a favorite playwright. There are minor figures, but the play is essentially a triangle, depicting the struggle of a mother, her son and his wife for possession of each other.

With Deborah Harford, O'Neill has created a possessive mother as forbidding as any presented by his successors, Tennessee Williams and Edward Albee. The wife of an insensitive New England businessman of the early 1800s, she turns her affections toward her son and tries to regain her hold on him after his marriage.

Although she seems to subordinate herself to the married couple, she in reality takes possession of them and in the process destroys her reason.

All this is heavy stuff, lightened rarely with a touch of Irish humor. For much of the two acts—the huge manuscript was edited to normal play length by director Jose Quintero—O'Neill's poetry and incisive characterizations sustain interest. But the relentless tragedy becomes numbing toward the end.

Bergman Talent

As the grasping matriarch, Miss Bergman makes use of all the extraordinary talents that won her Academy Awards for "Gaslight," 1944 and "Anastasia," 1956; an Emmy for "The Turn of the Screw," 1960, and other honors.

Her softly accented voice is always clear, and her laughter, even when mocking, is warmly musical. The only drawback to the portrayal is one which should please her as a woman: at 52, she still seems too glowingly youthful to enact an embittered grandmother.

The other ends of the triangle offer sturdy supports: Arthur Hill as the bedeviled son and Colleen Dewhurst as his shanty-Irish wife.

Lewis Show All Depends On Jerry

Jingo Hopes He Builds a Success By Keeping Quiet

BY JINGO

Jingo enjoyed an ever-so-slight respite from reviewing Tuesday night. The only program on the schedule of new shows was "Jerry Lewis."

Jerry Lewis Show (7-8, Channels 4-5) — The terrible bomb Lewis unloaded in a two-hour format not many seasons back and the pitiful hosting he did of "The Tonight Show" have stacked the odds against this comedian as he begins another new venture. Remembering many distasteful moments spent because of Jerry Lewis, Jingo looked forward to his new show as eagerly as a trip to the dentist.

Based on the first offering, it appears Lewis MAY — and Jingo emphasizes the word — have the nucleus for a successful outing. Whether he chokes his own chances with his big mouth depends on two main factors: guest stars and adhering to tight routines.

The guests on the initial program were nicely balanced — Lynn Redgrave, Sonny and Cher, Baja Marimba Band and the actor who played "Odd Job" in "Goldfinger." Except for an unbearably long opening routine featuring Lewis as "Stanley," a square non-swinger, which was not at all funny, the skits were at least humorous, if a bit strained.

If Lewis is to succeed where in the past he failed so miserably, he will have to keep from milking all potential humor into the ground.

Happily, he had no monologue and sang very little.

Try This Writing Stunt When You Write to Friends

BY CAPPY DICK

Any boy or girl who likes to write letters and cards to friends will be delighted. Because the writing and drawing are magnified, they will be of very small many more words can be used in the available space.

If the message proves to be one hard to read without using a magnifying glass, to increase the size of the writing, it is advisable to tip off your friend ahead of time so he can have his own magnifier close at hand when your letter or card arrives.

The writing is made just large enough to be [illegible] through the magnifier. It indeed will be tiny when a magnifier is applied. Because the writing will be so very small, many

Oregon Judge Uses New Approach to Narcotics Charge

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A Portland judge has sentenced a 19-year-old girl who pleaded guilty to illegal possession of narcotics to work with mental patients at the Oregon State Hospital.

Miss Dawn Martimolitch of Portland was placed on five years' probation on the condition that she spend her school vacation helping out in the hospital psychiatric unit.

Circuit Judge Robert E. Jones said: "Persons who use narcotics commonly lead lives of self-indulgence. We hope this approach in sentencing will help rehabilitate some of these persons to lives of creativity."

Kramer Says Detroit Defense Looks Stronger Than Ever

Trading of Roger Brown Won't Weaken Squad for Sunday Battle

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — How does the long vaunted Detroit Lion defense look without awesome Roger Brown?

In a word, rugged

So says the Packers' all-pro right guard Jerry Kramer, who has had more than a few memorable collisions with Roger's longtime running mate, Alex Karras during a distinguished 10-year pro career

The mountainous Brown is now a Ram, of course, having been hastily acquired by Los Angeles last week after Roosevelt Grier had been disabled in the Rams' 44-24 mauling of the Kansas City Chiefs

Kramer and his colleagues on the Packer offense have been making a close study of the Detroit defense via film this week in preparation for Sunday's National Football League inaugural at Lambeau Field, and he has been highly impressed

Pretty Good Job

'This boy who replaced Brown, Jerry Rush is doing a pretty good job" he declared "And, obviously, they must be pretty happy with him, because Roger didn't play in the preseason at all before the Lions traded him — they must have watched Rush awfully carefully."

Now in his third Lion season, the ex-Michigan State athlete appears 'agile, big (he's 6-4 and 270 pounds) and strong" Jerry summed up

Then, turning to his major personal problem in Sunday's imbroglio the 31-year-old veteran observed, "Karras looks great We saw him on film in their game against the Cardinals last week and also in our two games against them last year, and he looked a lot better against the Cardinals than he did a year ago

"Normally it's been one big dogfight playing against them,"

Voigt Shines In Badger Drill

Ryan Throwing on Sidelines; Likely To Miss Huskie Tilt

MADISON (AP)--Coach John Coatta had some words of praise Wednesday after his Wisconsin football squad staged its next to final scrimmage before starting the 1967 campaign

'They hit much better than they did last Saturday,' Coatta said of the team which opens its season at Seattle a week from Saturday against Washington

Coatta had praise for sophomore Stu Voigt a second team halfback who gained 81 yards in 19 carries to take individual honors in the scrimmage

Coatta also singled out first string halfback John Smith, who scored a touchdown from nine yards out, defensive tackle Tom Domres and linebackers Sam Wheeler and Lynn Buss

The longest run of the day, 28 yards by sophomore Jim Little, came against the first string defense

Mathis, Marsh in Final Warmup for 10-Rounds

NEW YORK (AP) - Buster Mathis of Grand Rapids, Mich , and Ron Marsh of Minneapolis boxed an aggregate of nine rounds Wednesday in preparation for their 10-round heavyweight bout in Madison Square Garden Monday night

Mathis sparred five rounds with Eddie Vick while Marsh went four with Roosevelt Eddie Jr

Schmidt Will Decide Friday About Starting Quarterback

GREEN BAY (AP) — Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi says his Packers will tangle with a tougher Detroit team Sunday in their National Football League season opener

But at Detroit, Lion Coach Joe Schmidt says "We'll show up, that's about it"

Lombardi declared Wednesday that the Lions 'are a lot better team this year than they have been the last few years" Without pinpointing the advantages, he said, 'They're just improved overall'

Schmidt meanwhile, stated "You've got to play them and if you lose one well, there are 13 more to play But the first one is always important"

He said he'd decide Friday who would be starting quarterback veteran Milt Plum or second year man Karl Sweetan Gail Cogdill, an end recovering from a broken arm, said he figured Plum would start against the Packers

"We just might beat them too," he added "I imagine they're heavily favored and we might surprise them"

The Packers worked out for 90 minutes Wednesday and held two meetings Lombardi said his team was in excellent condition

Bob Long, who reinjured a knee early in the training period and was feared lost for the season, was running well on the sidelines and appeared nearly ready for a return to the roster

Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates said Wednesday he was misquoted in a radio interview that represented him as saying some of his teammates are interested only in money. "I never said anything like that," he said (AP Wirephoto)

Oshkosh Net Star Was Big Ten Champ as Sophomore

Bleckinger Drops Out of UW

MADISON (AP) — Big Ten tennis champion Dan Bleckinger has dropped out of the University of Wisconsin

Bleckinger enrolled this week at Santa Monica City College, a two-year institution in California

It was the second straight year that a Wisconsin player who captured the Big Ten No 1 singles crown as a sophomore failed to return to school as a junior

Academic Reasons

Bleckinger from Oshkosh, transferred to Santa Monica for personal reasons ' his father said The California school does not have varsity tennis competition

Todd Ballinger of Leawood, Kans , the 1966 Big Ten champion as a sophomore, had bowed out of Wisconsin for academic reasons last fall

"This is all news to me," said Wisconsin tennis coach John Powless

Powless noted Wisconsin classes do not begin until next week and said, "to my knowledge he'll be here at Wisconsin"

However, the elder Bleckinger, an Oshkosh businessman, said his son had already made the switch

The sporting goods store owner said he expected his son to attend Santa Monica for a year and then transfer to another four-year school He said his son had made no decision on where to go next year

Bleckinger led Wisconsin to an 11-5 record last year The sophomore defeated Chuck Brainard of Michigan State for the Big Ten crown 8-6, 7-5

Top-rated Green Bay West will try to find out if the new Appleton High School East is for real Saturday in the Fox River Valley Conference's top football attraction of the weekend

The conference race which has started off as one of the most interesting in years, continues first with a pair of Friday night contests Appleton West invades Oshkosh, and Fond du Lac plays at Green Bay East

Another Saturday clash of first-week winners will involve Sheboygan South and Green Bay Southwest In the final game on the card Preble makes its 1967 league debut at Sheboygan North

AHS-E's Patriots, who startled the grid fraternity by beating Manitowoc in their historic opener will make their first home start at 1 30 p m Saturday The new East Stadium will seat about 3,000 persons.

Renew Rivalry

Appleton West's Ade Dillon and Oshkosh's Harold Schumerth, co-deans of FRVC coaches will renew their rivalry at 7 30 p m Friday on Jackson Athletic Field The Terrors and the Indians will both be in hostile moods as they try to crack the victory column

Claude Radtke-coached AHS-E which came up with the league's best defensive showing last weekend (holding Manty to 80 net yards) will face a dangerous Wildcat offense, keyed by Jerry Tagge The senior quarterback was the circuit's most prolific passer last week, with 10 completions in 25 attempts, for 113 yards He scored one touchdown and passed for the other in GBW's 14-12 win over North

The Wildcats rated No 1 in a pre-season survey came off with the second-best defensive record (a yield of 121 yards) in the opening weekend After seeing North romp to a 12-0 lead GBW tightened and outgained the Raiders 114 yards to 32, in the second half

Another top GBW threat is halfback Dave Mason, the circuit's leading pass receiver (five for 34 yards) and a gainer of 72 yards (in 16 tries) via rushing against North

The Patriots also have a pair of performers high in the statistics Quarterback Dick Miller has the best passing percentage (.600 on three for five), and halfback Cliff Tierney who gained 57 yards (10th highest in the league) in 13 carries

Twins, Red Sox Stay Tied for AL Lead; Chisox Win in 17th

Chance's Relief Halts Senators; Colavito's Single Nips Indians, 1-0

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pit Dean Chance with a fire-man's hat and Joe Adcock with something a bit more restraining

Chance strode out of the Minnesota bullpen for only the second time this season Wednesday night and saved Minnesota's 3-2 victory over Washington and the Twins share of the American League lead Boston tied for first place with Minnesota defeated Kansas City 4-2 in an afternoon game

Adcock's Indians meanwhile struggled through 17 scoreless innings, nine of them without a hit against Chicago's Gary Peters and finally lost to the White Sox 1-0 on Rocky Colavito's run scoring single

Third place Detroit remained one game off the pace as Mickey Lolich pitched a five-hitter and Al Kaline and Dick Tracewski rapped home runs in a 6-1 victory over Baltimore

In the only other American League game played Wednesday New York dropped California 6-4

Deceptive Lead

Jim Kaat was cruising along on a six hit shutout going into the ninth against Washington and the Twins' 3-0 lead built mostly on Harmon Killebrew's 39th homer looked substantial enough

But Frank Howard and Paul Casanova opened with singles and Fred Valentine drove a double off the right field wall Tom Oliva attempting to catch Valentine's drive crashed into the wall and suffered a three stitch cut in his left eyelid and superficial knee bruises

Manager Cal Ermer, who had considered removing Kaat before Valentine's hit, waited no longer As soon as I saw the ball head for the fence in right Ermer said I knew I'd made a bad move Now, he made a good one calling for Chance

The ace right-hander gave up a sacrifice fly to rookie Frank Coggins and then struck out Mike Epstein and Cap Peterson leaving the tying run stranded

Peters pitched 11 innings of the strangest one-hit ball you're ever likely to see The White Sox' ace left-hander permitted only a second inning triple by Joe Azcue but walked 10 batters and was in constant trouble

Matches Performance

Sonny Siebert meanwhile matched Peters allowing three hits in the first four innings and no more until the 11th But the Indians stranded 11 base runners

The White Sox finally won it in the 17th when Ken Boyer sin-

Brillion and Wrightstown Will Collide

LITTLE NINE CONFERENCE

Brillion	2	0	Shiocton	1	1
Hilbert	2	0	Winneconne	1	1
Wrightstown	2	0	Freedom	0	2
Denmark	1	1	Omro	0	2
Hortonville	1	1	Reedsville	0	2

Friday's Game:
Wrightstown at Brillion.

Saturday's Games
Omro at Reedsville.
Hilbert vs. Hortonville at Shiocton.
Shiocton at Freedom.
Denmark at Winneconne.

A top pre-season favorite, Wrightstown, and sudden title contender Brillion collide Friday night at Brillion in a battle of unbeaten teams for the lead in the Little Nine Conference football race.

The contest will have the league's full attention, as all other teams play the following day in four games. Unbeaten Hilbert, takes on Hortonville at Shiocton in Saturday's top affair. Reedsville and Freedom will be seeking their first wins at home against Omro and Shiocton, respectively, and Winneconne is host to Denmark.

Brillion will have two big factors going for it: A home field advantage and quarterback Russ Hansen. Hansen was the big gun again last week in the Lions 26-12 upending of defending champion Denmark, as he passed 24 yards for one TD and ran for another. Halfback Dick Klein also scored three of the touchdowns.

Hansen is currently second in the league in both rushing (185 yards in 16 carries) and scoring (22 points on 3 TDs and 4 PATs), and is the third best passer with 198 yards gained on 10 completions.

Brillion's biggest problem will be to hold down the Tigers' barging Al Janssen, who is fourth in the circuit's rushing with 162 yards in 31 attempts.

Hortonville sends its potent passing combination of quarterback Dick Tennie and end Rick Pankow against Hilbert. The Polar Bear signal-caller is second in passing in the conference with 212 yards on 13 completions, and Pankow has snared nine of the aerials for 143 yards for the receiving leadership. Fullback Jay Cordy is another top threat, having averaged over 13 yards per carry in Hortonvilles 19-7 win over Shiocton.

Reedsville, a 12-0 victim of Hilbert, owns the sixth best rusher after two games in Mary Matzke. Matzke has a 5-yard average.

Hilbert will have a good combination of its own in quarterback Leslie Homauer and halfback Mark Schneider. Schneider ranks second in receiving with seven catches.

Dan Vande Wettering (in receiving) and Al Garvey (in rushing) will lead Freedom's offense in hopes of its first win against Omro. The Foxes, in turn, can boast quarterback Gary Lee, the seventh best passer.

Shiocton can boast the top passer in Gary Johnson, who has hit 13 receivers for 266 yards. His favorite target has been Vaughn Wilkinson, fifth in the league's receiving department.

Denmark sends powerful-running Ken Storzer, who leads the Little Nine in both rushing (199 yards in 21 carries) and scoring (30 points on 5 TDs) against Winneconne on the Wolves' newly sodded field. Winneconne can counter with a solid defense that didn't allow Omro past its 25-yard line plus offensive threats — halfback Russ Flanigan along with quarterback Jeff Allen.

Lonborg Had Set Sights on 20 Victories

Bosox Hurler Hits Triple, Scores in Eighth Inning

BOSTON (AP) — Jim Lonborg gratefully accepts all the help he can get from the Boston Red Sox, but he realizes that at times a fella has to do things for himself.

Lonborg survived a hectic struggle with the aid of a brilliant defense in the early innings before turning to his personal "do-it-yourself" instructions Tuesday night for his 20th victory.

With the score tied 1-1 in the eighth inning against the Kansas City Athletics, Lonborg crossed up the A's by faking a bunt and then lining a triple, scoring pinch runner Jose Tartabull. Then he scored on a sacrifice fly in completing a 3-1 triumph.

Sixth in Seven Games

The victory was the Red Sox' sixth in seven games and boosted them into a tie with the Minnesota Twins, a 5-4 victim at Washington, for first place in the wild American League pennant scramble.

"This is the one I've wanted for a long, long time," the 24-year-old Lonborg said. "Usually, I'm not nervous before a game, but I was tonight. All day long I thought about No. 20."

The 6-foot-5 right-hander, who has lost only seven games, set his sights on 20 victories last spring because "I knew if I could win 20 it would help the club plenty."

"Naturally, every pitcher wants to win 20, but I was really determined this year," he said. "Now I'm ready for five more starts (in the last 16 games) and then the World Series."

Hawks Open League Action With Springs

performers who will be returning this fall include Little Chute's "Oscar" Schuler who ranked second in conference scoring last fall, third in rushing and second in pass receptions.

Gained 511 Yards

Schuler gained 511 yards in 112 rushing attempts, caught 23 passes for 281 yards and three touchdowns and scored 49 points.

Paul Walgenbach of Springs was seventh on the rushing list in 1966 with 310 yards in 60 attempts and Xavier's Brad Graff, who is back, was eighth with 284 yards in 57 carries.

Bill Heimerman, who caught 19 passes for 352 yards and three touchdowns, is back for St. Mary Menasha. Heimerman also had 24 points last season to tie for 10th place in scoring.

Defending champion Xavier will be seeking its seventh straight conference title. The Hawks, in addition to beating Assumption, were tied by Rhinelander as the Hodags scored in the last minute of play.

Famed Wrestler of Early 1900s Succumbs

CLEVELAND (AP) — Clarence E. Bouldin, who wrestled professionally in the early 1900s as the "Cuban Wonder," died Wednesday at Woman's Hospital. He was 94.

Bouldin also had traveled all over the United States in vaudeville as an Irish tenor and musician.

He was middleweight wrestling champion of the world from 1900 to 1912. He also wrestled in the light-heavyweight and heavyweight classes.

Ferguson and Miller also picked up vital yardage for AHS-E. Trojan defensive stalwarts, at Manitowoc, included Craig Rush (185 pounds), Dave Brown (200), Steve Utschig (200), Steve Shepard (190), Don Knaack (215), Bill Stroess (185) and Bob Reinke (175).

'Question Mark'

Prior to the start of the season, Radtke said, "We'll be a question mark until the Manitowoc game." The Patriots became an exclamation point in a hurry.

Because East was a new school, Radtke had said, "We need a win as soon as possible." His players attended to that need in a hurry, also.

GBW gained 211 yards — the league's fifth best total — in beating North. The winning play (a 3-yard pass, Tagge to Ron Knaus) came right after a disputed Wildcat time-out.

The Wildcats have 11 lettermen in their cast. The Trojans have four lettermen back from the AHS team that lost a close decision to GBW last season.

The Terrors, in 1966, stopped an Indian unbeaten streak at 22 games. The task facing the Terrors, this time, is more sticky because the current OHS team is more experienced than AHS-W, and two Appleton regulars are on the injury list.

Offensive tackle Steve Mattison was injured in an auto accident and will miss the game. Quarterback Ade Dillon Jr., suffered an injury to his sternum in the opening game and he may see only limited duty.

Dillon opened impressively against Southwest with 102 yards rushing (third best total in the league) and six pass completions in 21 attempts for 71 yards. Several other on-target passes were dropped, including one that looked like a sure TD in the making.

If Dillon is unable to start, the QB nod will go to junior Pat Burke or sophomore Don Hietpas. Don is following a trio of illustrious football-playing brothers — Bob, Mary and Gary — in Terror colors.

Loses 5 Fumbles

Oshkosh last Friday impressed Coach Dillon despite its 18-7 loss to Fond du Lac. OHS, which leads the circuit in total offense (235 yards) lost five fumbles.

The Terrors were also victimized by breaks in their losing inaugural. The game-opening kickoff by Southwest went out of bounds, which would have given AHS-W the ball on its own 40. But, because the officials hadn't succeeded in unwinding the chains on the sidelines, the play was re-done, and the ball was kicked into the end zone — with Appleton getting it on its own 20. Heading into a strong wind, the Terrors couldn't get out of the hole until SW had scored two TDs. A wind-held punt and a blocked punt compounded their early problems.

The Terrors came to life in the second half and outgained the Trojans. The 205-pound Bob Smith and the 185-pound Jay Parish played especially strong defensive ball for AHS-W. Halfback Tom Freude was the leading Appleton pass receiver, with three grabs.

Oshkosh, which boasts its characteristically big line, features Arvid Johnson and Dave Steinert as its leading rushers. Johnson, the league's second top rusher, gained 103 yards last week. South's Dave Boll leads the FRVC, with 124 yards.

NOTES and NOTIONS

by John L. Faustian

After a decidedly shaky start, it's with something less than confidence that I tackle this week's heavier slate. The record was 12 right, eight wrong and one tie on the topsy-turvy opening card.

Packers over Lions — Detroit has come quite a way since its loss to Denver — but not far enough to topple the defending champions. The Lion defense isn't quite what it used to be, and the Packers will roll in good style.

Green Bay West over Appleton East — It's dangerous to pick against the Patriots after their magnificent opening-game performance, but the Jerry Tagge-led Wildcats may be too much for even a strong defense to stop.

Oshkosh over Appleton West — The Indians, who were supposed to be loaded, will be in a surly mood after their loss to Fond du Lac. But, if the Terrors play as well as they did in the second half of their opener, they could make it close and perhaps even surprise.

Xavier over Fond du Lac Springs — The Hawks will be in high gear for their league opener, as they have no desire to tempt fate further. (Their only two FVCC losses in history came in openers.)

Weyauwega over Fox Lutheran — This promises to be an extremely close one with the breaks deciding it in the Foxes' home opener. The Indians may be a little sharper because of having already played two games.

Kaukauna over Kimberly — This bruising battle could play a large part in the M-E title race. The defenses are both good, but the Ghosts have the better offensive potential.

Neenah over Two Rivers — This will be a dangerous outing for the rebuilding Rockets against an improved Raider team. But they will have enough to win.

St. John over Lourdes — A tough conference opener that should affect the eventual course of the FVCC race. The Chuters figure to be in a belting mood after their loss to Kimberly.

Menasha St. Mary over Premontre — The Cadets are usually slow starters, and the fast-starting Zephyrs could catch them off-balance. The St. Mary aerial attack could decide a game that also has title implications.

Clintonville over Menasha — This should be a glove-tight duel between two first-week losers who showed some good possibilities. The Truckers get the nod on the basis of playing at home.

New London over Shawano — The Indians may still be somewhat woozy after the going-over they took from Schofield.

Other NFL games — Chicago over Pittsburgh, Baltimore over Atlanta, Cleveland over Dallas, Los Angeles over New Orleans, St. Louis over New York, San Francisco over Minnesota and Philadelphia over Washington.

Other FRVC games — Green Bay Southwest over Sheboygan South, Fond du Lac over Green Bay East, Sheboygan North over Preble.

Little Nine Conference — Brillion over Wrightstown, Winneconne over Denmark, Freedom over Shiocton, Hilbert over Hortonville, Reedsville over Omro.

Central Wisconsin Conference — Waupaca over Manawa, Wittenberg over Marion.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING—Roberto Clemente, Pirates, collected five hits and drove in four runs as Pittsburgh bombed Cincinnati 11-3.

PITCHING—Larry Jackson, Phillies, stopped St. Louis on two hits while Philadelphia beat the Cards 3-0.

Roger Paul Cops Final 40-Lap Feature Event

Bear Creek stock car driver Roger Paul avoided near disaster on the 35th lap of a 40-lap feature race and went on to capture the top event in the final night of racing for the year on the KK Sports Arena's ½-mile track.

Paul was leading the race in the 35th lap when his car lost a wheel in the back straightaway and collided with the second place car, that of Hortonville's Bob Bennett. Bennett's auto rolled over and was put out of commission for the rest of the race, but Paul repaired his auto, and following a restart, retained his earlier lead to win.

Ted Peters, Shawano, finished runner-up and Bob Kleinschmidt, Oshkosh, garnered third

The restart was the third of the feature A 5-car pileup in the first turn on the fourth lap saw two of the 17-cars forced out Earl Ness, Green Bay, and Gary Springborn, Appleton, were the dropouts The others, Peters, Bennet, and Bob Austin, Oshkosh, were able to continue

Catches Fire

Jerry Smith of Medina received a tough break in the 15th lap, when his car caught on fire. Smith, who had been in first place at the time, was also forced out. He was not injured

Smith did have some consolation, however, as he came away one of four heat winners. Smith's victory was in the fourth heat where Paul wound up second and Austin third.

Jack Peters, Shawano, took the checkered flag in the first heat and two Kaukauna drivers, Bill Schiefelbein and Johnny Brynner, finished 2-3

Plover's Rick Sommers took the second heat, and Don Denton and Dick Glaser, both from Appleton, wound up behind him Ron Hoppe, Racine, was the victor in the third heat while Kleinschmidt captured second and Bryce Spoehr, Appleton, got third

In the 15-car, 15-lap semi-feature, Hoppe became the evening's lone double winner by outdistancing Ed Rowell, Abrams and Glaser picked up third

Dennis Cooenen of Darboy grabbed the $100 prize for surviving the demolition race in a 9-car field In all, over $1,500 in prize money was awarded and 50 cars competed for the night's activities

Kramer Says Lion Defense Is Stronger

Jerry added by way of explanation but their defense didn't appear as strong the last couple of years as it had previously for so many years

Defense of Old

Such however is not the case in 1967 he emphasized 'This year, under Joe Schmidt, it looks like the Detroit defense of old Everybody's hitting — the linebackers and defensive backs are piling on five and six at a time making tackles the whole club has the single attitude of hitting everybody they can"

Elaborating on this point, Kramer added, "They were killing those Cardinals last week (the Lions won, 21-7 to finish their pre season schedule with a 3-2 record). That quarterback was going every which way"

Although some drug store quarterbacks have been inclined to write off the Lions as serious challengers since their opening loss to the Denver Broncos, which may be somewhat imprudent, the four-time all-pro is, most assuredly, not one of them

"I expect just a real dogfight," Jerry noted with fervor "just a heckuva football game"

"Knowing Joe Schmidt, and how he always has been geared up about beating the Packers, I know the only thing they've been thinking about since the first of the year is Green Bay"

I just hope," he soberly concluded, "a lot of our people aren't surprised"

Roberto Raps Bucs For Not Giving Best

Then Goes 5-for-5 in Pirate Triumph; Phils Blank Cards

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roberto Clemente conducted a short course in show and tell Wednesday

First the Pirate slugger gave some of his teammates a mild dressing-down for not giving their best Then he showed them just how good somebody's best can be He got five hits and drove in four runs as the Pirates pulverized Cincinnati 11-3

Earlier in the day, Clemente had been quoted as saying some of the Pirates hadn't done their best for former Manager Harry Walker, who was fired in June

Against the Reds, Clemente hit his 21st homer as well as a double and three singles Tommie Sisk went all the way for Pittsburgh, evening his record at 12-12

In other National League games Wednesday night, Philadelphia blanked St Louis 3-0, Los Angeles downed San Francisco 6-3 and New York edged Atlanta 2-1

No Names

Clemente didn't name any of the culprits in his blast first aired in a radio interview in Puerto Rico None of them seemed ready to dispute who had given 100 per cent in Wednesday's game

Larry Jackson conquered a seven-game hex against the Cardinals with a fine two-hitter, giving up only a single to Lou Brock in the fourth and a double to Curt Flood in the ninth Bill White homered for the Phillies.

Al Ferrara drove in three runs for the Dodgers and Jim Lefebvre homered as Mike McCormick failed to win his 20th game Ollie Brown homered for the Giants and Claude Osteen, who went the distance, was the winning pitcher, striking out 10.

Jerry Grote's two-out single in the ninth inning drove in Ed Kranepool with the winning run for the Mets Tom Seaver became the winningest pitcher in Mets' history with his 14th triumph

Tear Gas Hangs Heavily over Milwaukee's S. 16th Street Wednesday night after police broke up a crowd of whites who had been pelting patrol cars and cars loaded with Negroes with rocks and bottles. The whites had gathered and waited vainly for Negro open housing marchers to come south across the 16th Street viaduct on their nightly demonstration. (AP Wirephoto)

Police Battle Gangs of Youths on South Side

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gangs of white youths pelted Negro motorists and police cars with rocks, bottles and bricks Wednesday night in a fourth straight night of violence on the virtually all-white South Side.

The crowds had gathered for a second successive night in anticipation of an open housing march by Negroes who stopped short of the South Side neighborhood.

Police finally broke up the crowds of white youths with repeated barrages of tear gas and smoke bombs and with the intimidating blasts of riot guns and revolvers, but not before several police cars and vans were showered with flying debris. Three persons were injured. At least 20 were arrested.

Groppi Stays Out

The violence came despite a decision by the Rev James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest, and the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to steer clear of the South Side— where their open housing march was greeted with bottles and bricks Monday night.

"We don't have to prove how brave we are," the priest said Wednesday before leading Negro marchers in a demonstration in the virtually all-Negro Inner Core

It was the 17th straight night of demonstrations by the priest and the council which he advises.

Wednesday's violence was at first directed toward Negro motorists, many of them on their way to or from work in South Side industries. "Nigger, Nigger," whites would shout at the approach of a car containing Negroes.

The words would trigger a barage of debris at the car. "Tip him over Tip him over," the whites shouted as the car under fire swerved down 16th Street—the heart of the troubled area.

Police fired tear gas earlier to disperse the crowd after about 300 white youths had marched on the residence of William E. Cousins, the Roman Catholic archbishop of Milwaukee

The youths were demanding for a second night in a row, that the church censure Father Groppi.

The archbishop came to the front lawn of his residence and spoke briefly to the group, many of whom seemed under 16. "A bunch of babies with peach fuzz and pimples on their faces," was a description given by one policeman of the white assemblage.

After the archbishop referred the group to an editorial he wrote on the question in the archdiocesan newspaper Wednesday, the group marched back to the South Side where it was greeted with cheers.

The archbishop's editorial neither censured nor supported the controversial priest but warned against confusing Father Groppi with the city's racial problems

"We are being diverted by emotion and mob psychology into fighting a straw figure while the real enemy goes unscathed," the archbishop said in the editorial

The South Side, a neighborhood of largely lower middle income homes, small businesses and large industrial complexes, was the scene of violence between whites and police Sunday night after Father Groppi and 2,500 demonstrators marched through the area virtually unmolested

The violence with most of it directed at police, has been on a nightly basis ever since

Police have been abused for the protection they extended to Negro marchers, and for their opposition to plans for white marches into the Negro Inner Core.

Shops on 16th Street began to take on the aspect of shops of Third Street in the Negro area —the scene of rioting July 30. Display windows were boarded up and the words, Open for Business" were painted crudely on the wood

After their initial tear gas attack Wednesday night police pulled back from the area.

They made no apparent effort to warn Negro motorists away.

Asked why one officer replied "They have as much right to travel down there as anyone else"

Whites 'Can't Believe' Rioting

MILWAUKEE (AP)—"If they break the window of my store I'm going to shoot them, I don't care if they're white or not," a middle-aged man said as he cleaned up the broken bottles in front of his store.

Three youths with brooms were sweeping the glass out of the street People were very careful where they walked, because it was nearly impossible to put a foot down without stepping on the shattered fragments

The glass lay in testimony to the violent reaction of whites on Milwaukee's South Side to having Negroes among them Bottles and rocks shattered on cars of Negroes that happened to drive past the hundreds of whites that gathered for the second straight night on the south side of the 16th Street bridge

The glass crunched under feet of fleeing whites and following police.

"Get one of our photographers out here," the sergeant in charge of the riot squad snapped into a radio "I want documentation for what we're doing out here tonight Have him get the glass in the street, and those broken windows"

"Break up that group down there," he yelled at some of his men He pointed at several dozen youths standing about 50 yards down a side street

"One unit wait here and another one get around behind them, when they give you the word, move I want some of those guys arrested," he snapped

The word came and the officers jumped into action

"Get them, get all of them," a housewife standing behind her screen door yelled at the police as they scrambled over hedges after the fleeing youths

"I can't believe these people," said one officer as they walked back, I was raised in the house back there my dad owned a store just around the corner I just can't believe it."

The window of a jewelry store was broken, but the owner said nothing was taken He had all his display merchandise stored inside

U.S., Soviets Warned

U Thant Reportedly Threatened to Quit

CAIRO (AP)—U N. Secretary-General U Thant has threatened to resign unless the United States and the Soviet Union make more serious efforts to solve the problems and difficulties confronting the United Nations and the world, the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram reported today.

In a dispatch from its New York correspondent, Al Ahram said Thant made the threat to the U S. and Soviet governments recently.

Didn't 'Heed Advice'

Thant was especially bitter, the report said, because of the failure of the United States to "heed his advice on Vietnam" His chief recommendation has been for a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam

Al Ahram said Thant in his recent communications to Moscow and Washington pointed out that when he reluctantly accepted another five-year term last December, he had three major international problems on his hands.

The report did not say what these problems were But Thant reportedly told the U S and Soviet governments none of them had been solved and a fourth problem, that of the Middle East, has been added also reportedly Thant emphasized he had received no help from either government in easing the financial difficulties of the world organization

Thant arrived in Kinshasa, the Congolese capital, Wednesday night to attend the closing session of the African summit meeting. Al Ahram said he intends to express these views in a private meeting with African leaders

B52s Drop Bombs Inside N. Vietnam

242 Americans Killed in Week; Communist Losses Hit 2,103

SAIGON (AP) — High-altitude B52 bombers struck inside North Vietnam today at hidden sites where the Communists were preparing to put up missile stations in an effort to halt the damaging blows from the Stratofortresses along the demilitarized zone.

The B52 raid three miles inside North Vietnamese territory was one of three heavy strikes during which the big bombers unloaded some 450,000 pounds of bombs from the demilitarized zone north.

The heavy pressure in South Vietnam's northern provinces was reflected in last week's casualty figures announced today by the U.S. Command. The number of American and Communist combat dead were the highest in two months, and at least two thirds of the Americans were around the coastal town of Tam Ky and 150 miles to the north on the fringes of the DMZ.

The U S Command said 242 Americans were killed last week, 1,490 were wounded and seven were missing South Vietnamese forces reported 250 killed, while Communist dead totaled 2,103 killed

Since the South Vietnamese presidential election Sept. 3 brought an end to a two-month lull in ground fighting, the Communists have repeatedly committed big units to battle in the north and hurled continual mortar and artillery barrages at the Marines holding the line south of the DMZ The sandbagged, underground fortress at Con Thien has been a repeated target.

Today's B52 raids smothered the jungle routes leading down to Con Thien and blasted suspected artillery gun posts as well as the area north of the zone where preparations were spotted to install the big SAM missiles which can reach an altitude of 70,000 feet Earlier this year the Communists succeeded in bringing down the big missiles, forcing the Air Force to pull back its high-altitude bombers to targets below the zone The Air Force is determined that won't happen again, and is making heavy raids on all suspected missile activity in the southern part of North Vietnam

American authorities reported scattered fights up and down South Vietnam Wednesday with at least 257 Communists killed

The fighting in the north was mainly a series of smaller skirmishes, but in the southern Mekong Delta American infantrymen, artillery and air power killed 123 guerrillas in a running fight through muddy rice paddies

Although the weather over North Vietnam was spotty, American pilots managed an almost average number of 137 missions Wednesday Some were night radar strikes and others sudden raids through chance openings in the clouds.

There was no report of any lost planes, but returning pilots reported meeting swarms of SAM missiles and flights of swept-wing MiG17s in the Hanoi-Haiphong area The MIGs skirted the bombing formations in efforts to draw them from targets but stayed far enough away to avoid aerial combat.

Blames Reds for Attacks

Korea Threatens Reprisals

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government declared today the Korean armistice agreement has become "a mere scrap of paper" because of mounting attacks from the Communist North It said it would "take certain very serious actions" against any further Red attacks

Information Minister Hong Jong-chul said after an emergency session of the National Security Council called by President Chung Hee Park that North Korea must bear the responsibility for the situation

Hong said Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah and Defense Minister Kim Sung-eun would confer with U N officials and leaders of the U.N Command.

The council also discussed proposals for reviving the South Korean militia and deploying national police and troops to crush infiltrators from the North, a ranking government official said.

Million in North

South Korea had a militia system until 1951 North Korea is reported to have more than one million militia members ready to bolster its regular armed force.

A ranking government official reported after the Security Council meeting that the government plans to ask the U N General Assembly to send a new U N group to supervise the armistice.

"Full and effective supervision of the armed peace in Korea is imperative because of ever increasing North Korean acts of violence," the official told newsmen after the emergency session of the council.

Wednesday saboteurs believed from the North mined a South Korean freight train hauling U.S. military supplies 10 miles north of Seoul The explosion wrecked two cars and damaged four. Eight days previously a passenger train 25 miles northeast of Seoul was derailed by an explosion.

U S and South Korean officials have accused North Korea of launching an intensified campaign of border attacks and guerrilla sabotage deep in the south since last October when Premier Kim Il-Sung ordered his Communist forces to increase espionage and guerrilla actions.

The U.N. command has reported 245 North Korean soldiers killed or captured in nearly 200 incidents in the past 11 months, while nearly 85 South Korean troops and 20 Americans have been killed.

The U N command says there were only eight such actions in 1964 and 27 in 1965

$100 Million Cut Ordered in AT&T 'Distance' Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission ordered today American Telephone and Telegraph Co to cut its long distance telephone rates by $100 million by Nov 1

The FCC originally had ordered a $120 million cut But in a 7-0 decision it said today $20 million of the reduction could be deferred until next May 1

The FCC also reversed part of its July 5 order to allow the giant communications combine to include an additional $544 million in its so-called rate base—the basis on which AT&T figures its profits

Police Identify Battered Body

Fingerprints Reveal Slaying Victim Was Chicago Man, 27

FOND DU LAC (AP)—Fond du Lac County Sheriff Harry E Rozek said today that a man whose battered and bullet-marked body was found in a dump near Kewaskum has been identified as Herbert L. McKinney, 27, of Chicago

Identification was made by fingerprint classifications with Chicago authorities, Rozek, said, and two sisters with whom McKinney lived are coming to Fond du Lac to make a visual identification.

Rozek said Chicago authorities reported that the McKinney sisters, Shirley and Tina, had said that they took Herbert and a girl friend to a Chicago tavern about 8 a.m. Saturday, and that the three women left him there.

Rozek said the Washington County sheriff's office called his office Tuesday, saying it had received a citizen's tip that a body could be found on an abandoned dump on a farm in southeastern Fond du Lac County.

Rozek said his men went out to the farm, owned by a Chicago policeman, and discovered the body abolut four feet down a 40-foot gully at the dump.

Rozek said bruises on the forehead indicated the man had been beaten, perhaps with a wooden club but tests indicated he had died from a bullet wound in the left temple by a gun "closer to a .38 than anything"

No Announcement Soon

Many Urging Romney To Declare Candidacy

ROCHESTER, N Y. (AP) — Michigan Gov George Romney has been urged to hurry an announcement of candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination but is holding back a Romney source acknowledged today

The source added that, "even back in June, people were advising the governor to declare the next day"

Romney has taken the advice under consideration, but no decision is expected soon the source indicated

Urged by Rockefeller

One of those reported to have urged Romney to make his intention known is Gov. Nelson A Rockefeller of New York, an early supporter of Romney for the nomination Romney is expected to see Rockefeller tonight in New York City— another stop in a study of urban problems and a sampling of political winds

Wednesday Romney flew into Rochester in his undeclared quest and sought answers in a Negro neighborhood to urban uprisings He got some hard questions

Among other things, the Michigan governor was asked why he believed he could handle the nation when the major city of his home state had been torn by rioting this summer, rioting described as the worst in this nation's history

Romney, who says he is making a 19-day sweep across the nation to learn more about the problems of Negroes and the cities, sat down in a storefront headquarters of a Negro organization named FIGHT On one wall was a photograph of Stokely Carmichael emblazoned with his views on Negroes fighting in Vietnam "Hell no, we won't go"

And on a wall behind the governor was a poster with the photograph of Che Guevera, Fidel Castro's expert on guerrilla warfare

Romney intense and serious, faced a crowd of about 100 Negroes jammed into the hot room, and said: "I am sure in my own mind people in this country don't realize how close we are to civil guerrilla warfare in America"

From the crowd came the chant "Right! Right!"

A middle-aged Negro woman asked the governor "Do you feel these riots are the result of white America?"

"Liberation, not riots," interrupted a man

Romney said he didn't think the responsibility belonged ex-

Once Again, Beulah Becomes a Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla (AP) — Hurricane Beulah exploded in size and fury today and became once again a dangerous storm, lashing a huge area of the western Caribbean.

"This is going to become a massive storm before we are through with it," said Dr. Robert Simpson, co-director of the National Hurricane Center. "Beulah has become once again a very dangerous storm."

Beulah was a small, tightly-wound hurricane when she roared through the eastern Caribbean, killing at least 18 persons and taking a big toll of crop and property damage.

Knocked down to a tropical storm by her collision with the mountains of Haiti, she built back up to hurricane force today and Simpson said she was expected to continue to grow in both size and intensity

She switched from a due west course toward Honduras and began angling toward the west-northwest to the general direction of the Yucatan Peninsula leading into the giant Gulf of Mexico. A morning satellite picture revealed that Beulah again was fully organized and had spread out over a major portion of the western Caribbean. She was thrashing along slowly, sucking up energy from the warm sea waters.

Beulah was 250 miles from the coast of Central America and 680 miles due south of Miami.

Others Flounder

Two more powerful storms, Chloe and Doria, floundered almost aimlessly in the Atlantic.

Hurricane Chloe churned the waters with 110 m p h winds 725 miles east-southeast of Bermuda and pounded a 400-mile wide area with gales She was moving toward the north-northwest at about five m.p h.

Hurricane Doria lay nearly stationary 400 miles southeast of Cape Cod, Mass., and 525 miles due east of Cape Hatteras, but was forecast to drift slowly west-northwest toward the Atlantic coast during the day

A Viet Cong Suspect emerged in this fashion from a spider hole under a thatched hut in a village near Bong Son. U.S. troops and Vietnamese national police held their fire while a woman talked the suspect out of his hiding place Troops swooped into the village, followed by police. (AP Wirephoto)

First Diocesan Education Unit Holds Meeting

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — A group of 12 Catholic priests and laymen met Wednesday night to form the first Green Bay Diocese Board of Education.

The Rev. Richard Kleiber, superintendent of the diocesan parochial schools said the organizational meeting was called to explain the purpose and function of the body that will oversee Catholic education for students of all ages. The group will meet monthly.

The first meeting was exploratory according to Father Kleiber. No officers were elected or action taken as the group decided to wait until it determines its role.

No Rush

"We've waited for this for a long time," the superintendent said, "and there is no reason to rush into things yet."

Father Kleiber said the body that has representatives of urban, small town and rural parishes and one parish without a school will serve as a board of education rather than a school board, taking responsibility for all aspects of Catholic education from parochial schools and CCD instruction to other forms of religious education in the diocese.

Parochial schools in the diocese will be responsible to the board as an agent of Bishop Stanislas Bona for its actions.

Clerical Members

Clerical members appointed to the board by Bishop Bona are: the Rev. Alvin Auer, St. Agnes, Green Bay; the Rev. Sylvester Borusky, St. Aloysius, Kaukauna; the Rev. Eugene F. Hotchkiss, St. Joseph, Marinette; the Rev. Michael Jacowski, Holy Rosary, Kewaunee;

The Rev. Thaddeus Koszarej, St. Rose, Clintonville; the Rev. Alfred Lison, Nativity of Our Lord, Green Bay, and the Rev. Leo Schmitt, St. Michael, Whitelaw.

Laymen appointed to the board by the bishop on the recommendation of area priests are: Mrs. Francis Broderick, Appleton, wife of the dean at Lawrence University; Robert Bryan, Menasha, a managerial employe of Kimberly-Clark Corp.; Raymond Clouthier, West De Pere, associate professor of education at St. Norbert College; Charles J. Fiss, an Oshkosh undertaker, and Victor Miller, a St. Nazianz attorney.

Further State Aid Needed in TB Fight

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Increased state aids are necessary to complete the chain of progress and totally eradicate tuberculosis, Dr. John Russo of the Riverview Sanitarium in Kaukauna told the Legislature's Joint Committee on Finance Wednesday.

Supporting a bill which would double state aid payments to such sanitariums, Dr. Russo reviewed progress made during the past 70 years in combatting the disease.

"Now we find we can prevent it but we still cannot complete the chain until we eradicate," he said. "Cost is the handicap," he explained, describing efforts at wiping it out as at a stalemate.

Per Patient Increase

Dr. Russo backed a bill which would increase state aid payments in county tuberculosis sanitariums from $21 a week per patient to $42 a week for each patient.

The suggestion is a scaled down version of a bill originally suggested by Sen. Norman Sussman, D-Milwaukee, calling for state aids totalling 60 per cent of the per capita costs of such patients.

George Rice, representing Milwaukee County, told the finance unit that the $3 million cost of the original measure made it virtually doomed in the Legislature, and so the reduced suggestion was submitted.

Cost of the $42 a patient plan would be about $1.1 million a biennium, he said.

Testing Program

Russo described to the finance committee an Outagamie County program since adopted throughout the state for skin tests for likely tuberculosis-prone children throughout local school systems.

Annual surveys have found that between three and five per cent of the students show a positive reaction to the tests, he said, and the County then administers drugs to them in a program of "future prevention" of the disease.

Results of this and other efforts have caused a sharp reduction in the number of patients confined to county hospitals, he said but county boards often do not recognize causes of such gains when they call for support cutbacks to match the declining patient loads.

Russo pointed out that state aid for such patients was started in 1947 at a level of $7 a week per patient, and reached $21 a week in 1957. Since then no aid increases have been granted by the Legislature, be reminded the unit.

During the same period the state closed down its state-run tuberculosis sanitariums and increased the loads on county programs.

And in the span from 1957 to date the per capita patient cost of care has jumped from $80 a week to $164 a week, he said.

But boards looking for economies see only that the sanitariums in the state have offered reduced amounts of care during the same period, shrinking from 60,000 patient weeks in 1957 to about 24,000 patient weeks this year. The reduction reflects the gains in combatting the illness, but more money and eforts — but less — are needed to wipe it out, he said.

Gordon K. Jarstadl, Green Bay, president of the Wisconsin Sanitarium Trustees Association, also appeared in favor of the measure.

Closing the hearing on the bill, which drew no opposition, Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Rosendale, co-chairman of the finance committee said, "This is just a matter of finding the dollars. The case which you present is certainly a good one."

Hospital Budget Could Increase

Speener Says Deficit May Require More Outagamie Funds

Although detailed figures were not revealed at a joint meeting Wednesday night, indications were that the 1968 budget for the Outagamie County Hospital and Golden Age Home could increase 10 per cent over 1967.

Eugene Speener, hospital superintendent, will present the proposed 1968 budget to the county board's finance committee early next week. The board's budget hearing is in November.

Speener, at a joint meeting with the hospital's board of trustees and the county board's health, education, and institutions committee, said he has his budget draft completed. At the request of trustees, however, he did not reveal specific figures.

Institution committee members reportedly have not seen the budget figures.

Increased Services

Speener said the additional proposed cost to the county "is not great" in light of increased services being offered through the institutions. The 1967 hospital and Golden Age Home budget expenditures totaled $848,668. The Golden Age Home accounted for $372,037 of that amount, and the remaining $476,631 was for county hospital expenditures.

However, Speener said Wednesday night that he was faced with a 1967 deficit of about $35,000, which he indicated he would try to bring before the county board.

The deficit, Speener said, occurred as a combined result of increased costs of drugs and medical costs for patients needing outside-the-hospital attention. Other factors were higher than anticipated maintenance and operational costs and increased food prices, the committees were told.

Those, Speener said, also were among the primary factors in the proposed 1968 budget hike.

Speener, who has been hospital superintendent since April 1 and thus has had no control over formulating the 1967 budget, told the committee he "scraped the bottom of the barrel" this year and probably will next year.

In briefing the joint committee on institutional affairs, Speener said the county hospital now has 241 patients, three under the rated capacity, and the 86 Golden Age Home population is five under capacity.

Professional Organization of Clergy

Plans Set for New Priests Association

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — A representative group of northeast Wisconsin Catholic priests has issued an invitation to 586 priests in the Green Bay Diocese to form a priests association for the diocese.

The invitations to the first general meeting of the proposed group that is scheduled Oct. 2 at the Brown County Arena were signed by nine area priests who have completed preliminary plans for the association that would be a professional organization of clergy.

Foundations of the proposed organization were laid in the formation of local and county priest groups that have been developed in nine northeast Wisconsin areas since the end of Vatican Council II. The small groups that sent representatives to explore the possibilities of a diocesan-wide organization have functioned to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas relative to their positions and to coordinated activities within the communities.

Not a Union

In the invitation, the undersigned prieses point out that the new organization "wants no part of anything like a union or any device for the use of crude pressure tactics."

Founders of the priests association explain in the constitution of the organization that its role will be "to cooperate with the bishop in his pastoral role. It is seen as an organization that can facilitate communication among priests on the problems and projects of priestly education, research and development, personnel and social action and provide a channel by which the bishop can communicate with the priests of the diocese.

Outlines for the association show an organization that is planned along the lines of a similar group in the Chicago Archdiocese and in a number of midwestern dioceses. Formation of such groups was called for in the second Vatican Council documents in a specific order.

Tentative Agenda

A tentative agenda for the Oct. 2 meeting indicates that the group will consider forming a formal priests association of the Green Bay Diocese, select a method of electing officers so that a 19-member coordinating board may be formed, approve a constitution and pledge loyalty to the Catholic Church, the Pope and Bishop Stanislas Bona.

Representatives of local groups that made preliminary plans and sent the invitations to the general meeting are:
